Prof., and Judge, Moynihan Celebrates 25th

When Professor Moynihan of the Law School was honored recently with his 25-year Award, it marked a quarter-century of extraordinary service to college and community. Some highlights:

- "Survey of Real Property" by Moynihan, is the text on the subject.
- At 29, he was appointed Special Justice of the Central District Court of Northern Essex.
- During 1936-37, Prof. Moynihan served as Acting Dean of the Law School.
- The war-years saw him serving as O.P.A. Regional Attorney and Regional Rationing Executive.
- He served with the Recess Commission to investigate adoption of a system of community property for Massachusetts.
- But mostly his students—thousands—remember the thoroughness of his preparation, his strict discipline, his fair evaluation of classroom performance . . . and thank him for it!

In the last issue of the News, Henry Beauregard, '36, pleaded for a change in B. C.'s name. We asked two leading alumni to comment.

Do We Change B.C.'s Name?

William F. Joy, '40

Charles W. O'Brien, '33

YES says William F. Joy, '40

I feel strongly that the Trustees should act now to change the name of Boston College for the following reasons:

1. The School is in fact a University.

With the many specialized departments of the School such as Business, Nursing, Law, Social Work, Education, Graduate School, Schools of Philosophy and Theology at Shadowbrook and Weston, in addition to the basic School of Arts and Sciences, there can be no question that the School is a University. The name should reflect this status.

2. There is a common opinion prevalent, not only in the United States, but also abroad, attaching more prestige and significance to an institution entitled a university than a college. For example the term "college" delayed the admission of Boston College to the International Association of Catholic Universities for three years to determine its university status, for the word college in the European concept is synonymous with the American idea of a high school.

3. There is obvious confusion between Boston College and Boston University. This is not so pronounced here in New England but it is very definitely the case in other parts of this country and abroad. The confusion exists with respect to identifying properly the two schools but, more to the point, it tends to blend the identity of Boston College into a division of Boston University.

4. Located in the cultural, educational and intellectual center of the United States (and possibly of the world), this school should be distinctively and readily identified and identifiable here and abroad by a name which properly connotes the purposes and objectives of the leading Catholic institution of higher education in such a setting.

5. In selecting an appropriate name we should look both backward and forward, but never backward at the expense of forward. Our attention should be directed primarily to choosing a name which will be suitable for centuries to come. However, we should not ignore, if consistent with our primary purpose, the traditions which have been associated with our present name since 1863. But we must be objective—not sentimental, emotional or worse—provincial. And the all pervading note of our deliberations should be the intellectual and moral purpose of our institution, not such incidental matters as the name and fame of our athletic teams, or our college songs and cheers.

6. The task of selecting a name will be a difficult one not insurmountable if the minds of our Faculty, Alumni and Student Body are centered on the problem. To stimulate thinking and discussion in this area I should like to suggest the following:

- A. Cheverus University—after the first Catholic Bishop of Boston who invited the Jesuits to form a school in Boston some time prior to November, 1811.
- B. Boston Catholic University—which retains the initials B. C.—the name connotes the location and type of school.
- C. St. Thomas More University—after the great English layman, scholar, lawyer, public servant, martyr, saint.
- D. St. Robert Bellarmine University—after the great Jesuit, Cardinal, Doctor and Confessor of the Church, suggested previously by Henry C. Beauregard, '36.

NO says Charles W. O'Brien, '33

As of the last issue of the Alumni News there was wafted northeastward a trial balloon which took visible shape above University Heights with the proposal to change the name of Boston College to Bellarmine University.

Strong men shuddered as they envisioned the abbreviation of Bellarmine University. My eleven year old son, whose spectrum is composed of only two primary colors, maroon and gold, writhed at the metrical horrors presented by "For Bellarmine!" "For Bellarmine!"

Frankly we are opposed to change for the sake of change alone; and the corollary of that proposition is that if a change of name would add to the real stature of the university which is known as Boston College, it would have our ungrudging blessing and united support. It must also be recognized that any change of title will be a radical one, including far more than the mere substitution of University for College—for such a change is out of the question. Boston College will have to be eliminated, unless we are to settle for the contradiction in terms "University of Boston College", for surely if Boston College is inadequately descriptive of a great university, it would only compound the felony to substitute the shadow for the substance.

Rightfully, then, may we ask the proponents of a change for their reasons. Are the reasons strong and valid? Will a change substantially contribute to the advancement of the College in the educational world? For we are old fashioned enough to believe that these questions must be answered cogently and decisively in the affirmative, if the proposal is to enlist our support.

One can only speculate as to the reasons. Who is it that is so confused by our title as not to know that Boston College is a university? Surely accrediting organizations and similar educational associations are endowed with sufficiently astute personnel to unearth that fact. Do degrees from the law school, the graduate school, the school of social work sound to the untutored ears of boards of examiners like the products of an undergraduate educational institution? Do those degrees have any less value by reason of the fact that they bear the superscription "Collegii" rather than "Universitatis"? Or do they carry the same weight that the university that is Boston College displaces in educational purview?

What magic, then, attaches to this mystic word that men desire it? I am sure that there is no taint of intellectual snobbery in the aspiration to the title of university. Boston College would wear it well and modestly with no inner or outward glow of smug self satisfaction, had it been so ordained in 1863. (It will soon be a full century since Boston College was chartered as a university.) The seed planted a hundred years ago has been nurtured and has grown and flourished into the great university we know today, and throughout that century from its beginnings it has been known and loved as Boston College. The name and the thing have been identified through all those hundred years. The name has become a tradition in the original and best sense of the word, a thing handed down and hallowed by generations of Boston College men. This is no sentimentality, but hard, unyielding fact even to an age in which tradition is old hat. It is high time that we junked the inferiority complex which has so long beset us and begin in all humility to take ourselves for granted as a great university and Boston College is its name.

If YOU have strong opinions one way or the other, let's have 'em for the next issue. Address NAME c/o B. C. Alumni News, Chestnut Hill.

Rev. William Leonard, S.J., B.C., pictured third from left at the Dinner for Translators (English-speaking) held at Assisi on September 21 during the Congress of Pastoral Liturgy.

WILLIAM J. LEONARD, S.J.

ASSISI is a pretty town. Sun-drenched and white, it climbs the upper crest of a steep hill rising out of the Umbrian plain. There is a medieval fortress at the very top. The Church of St. Francis and the large Friary jut out over one slope; the Church of San Damiano, where St. Clare repelled the Saracens, looks down on another. At the base of the hill is the huge basilica of Santa Maria degli Angeli, enclosing the "Portiuncula" chapel and the little room where St. Francis died. I first saw the town ten years ago, on the 18th of March; one could look down that night from the porch of San Damiano and see the fires lighted in the valley for the feast next day — "St. Joseph's fires." So dark was the night and so high my vantage point that I wondered for a moment if I had been turned upside down and was looking at the stars in the heavens. In Assisi one is always looking sharply up or down, so it would not have been much of a surprise.

But Assisi is more than pretty. There lingers in it something of the radiant Francis: his joy, his warm humanity, his abounding love of God. No petty rigorism or solemn formalities marred our registering, for instance, for the Congress or the new "Cenacolo" where we lived; it was done in a trice and with smiling cordiality. Services of every sort were cheerfully given by the Franciscans and by the members of "Pro Civitate Christiana," the secular institute whose handsome auditorium and offices were Congress headquarters for the week.

Some 1350 delegates came to Assisi for the first "International Congress of Pastoral Liturgy." It was for all of us a remarkable experience of the Church Catholic: there were white men, brown men, black men, yellow men; men with straight eyes and men with slant eyes. There were five Cardinals and eighty or ninety Bishops; there were abbots and monsignori, priests, sisters, and layfolk (not enough of these, however). Five languages — French, German, Italian, Spanish, English — were in official use on the platform; many others were spoken privately. Among the speakers and organizers of the Congress were diocesan priests, Dominicans, Benedictines, Franciscans, and Jesuits. Europeans predominated, naturally, but we Americans numbered a hundred, and there were representatives from Australia, Indonesia, the Philippines, from enormous India and tiny Malta. There was even one representative from the Church of Silence, a Bishop who with difficulty had come to us from behind the Iron Curtain.

The theme of the Congress was an exposition of the liturgical work of Pope Pius XII. Cardinal Cicognani, in his capacity as Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Rites, gave the opening address, in which he showed how consistently the reforms of the Holy Father had been prompted by the needs of souls today. The Austrian Jesuit Father Jungmann, distinguished historian of the Mass, then pointed out how through the centuries the shape of the Liturgy had been determined by pastoral considerations. The papers which followed took up one by one the liturgical documents and decrees issued by Pius XII during his pontificate: the encyclicals of 1943 and 1947 on the Mystical Body and the Liturgy, the directives on sacred art and church music, the approval of vernacular rituals, the simplification of the rubrics and the reform of the Breviary, the changes in the laws regarding the Eucharistic fast and the permission for evening Mass, the apostolic constitution on the theology of Holy Orders. Auxiliary papers were read on the pastoral importance of Holy Scripture in the Liturgy, on the liturgical renewal in the service of the missions, and on the relation between Liturgy and the care of souls in the Oriental rites. The speakers were distinguished members of the hierarchy and scholars from all over the world: Cardinal Gerlier of Lyons and Cardinal Lercaro of Bologna; the Bishops of Mainz in Germany, Toledo in Spain, Toulouse in France, Ruteng in Indonesia; Benedictines from Louvain and Chevetogne, an official of the Congregation of Rites, the President of the Liturgical Institute in Trier, the former Rector of the Biblical Institute in Rome. The paper written by Archbishop O'Hara of Kansas City, President of the American Liturgical Conference, was read by Bishop Dworschak of Fargo. We Americans, who had been so often helped and stimulated by the Archbishop's active sympathy, had been especially saddened by the news of his death in Milan only a few days before the Congress opened. But we were encouraged by the presence in Assisi of two more American prelates: Bishop John Wright, '31, of Worcester and Bishop Annabring of Superior, Wisconsin.

All the addresses save one (that of Cardinal Frings of Germany, who spoke to us in Latin) were read in the language of the speaker, but each chair in the auditorium was furnished with headphones, so that we could listen to a translation read simultaneously in our own language. This wonderful device gave a "U. N." appearance to the proceedings, but I caught myself wondering if the "nations" had ever been so harmoniously "united," in spite of the superficial difference of language, and when one of the speakers quoted the Psalm, "How good and pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity," it seemed to me that he had hit on the perfect caption for the week.

POPE'S CONFESSOR ADDRESSES LITURGICAL CONGRESS

The Rev. Agostino Bea, S.J., confessor to Pope Pius XII, who addressed the Congress. The priest serves as consultor to the Sacred Congregation of Rites, sponsor of the congress, and the Sacred Congregations of the Holy Office and Seminaries and Universities. Father Bea, a noted Biblical scholar, urged revival of the ancient custom of reading a portion of the Bible at every Mass.

The Congress was closed in the most climactic manner possible by an audience with the Pope. We went down to Rome on Saturday, and the Holy Father came in especially from Castel Gandolfo. When he was carried into the Hall of Benedictions, beaming at us and blessing us, a wonderful gladness seized upon us. He was our common father, and he had words of generous kindness for us, declaring that the contemporary Liturgical Movement is "providential," and evidence "of the work of the Holy Spirit" in the Church, commending the workers in the Movement for the "balanced" way in which they had labored for the adaptation of the Church's worship to the needs of modern times without losing sight of the vital traditions of the past.

My plane arose into the Roman sky at 11:15 Sunday morning, touched down briefly along the way, and deposited me in Boston early enough to allow me to walk into a 10:20 class on Monday morning. The first glimpse of the new Freshmen. I must admit, was a little less exhilarating than the first glimpse of Italy from the Mediterranean. But, like hundreds of others the world over, I was returning from Assisi with new conviction and profound encouragement for the work. God had been very good.

Do Teachers Take Vacations?

Everyone knows, of course, that that's why teachers teach: the 3-month lay off in the summer is just lovely. You sit yourself down in the old rocking chair and, rocking slowly, smile at all those peons who have to work on a hot July day.

I suppose some of them do just that. Good luck to them. Only it's hard to find any doing it. Actually when you make a fast roundup of the faculty, asking "What are you doing this summer?" you get the darndest answers.

You'd think they were all waiting for the students to go away so they could get down to work. Some travel (but always with a handful of notes for the latest book), some write (which, believe me, is the hardest work of all. (Ed. note.), some discuss papers at institutes, conferences, workshops, seminars and meetings, some just plain work.

SOME TRAVELED

Don't think the following list is anywhere near complete: it's a really random sample. Some weren't around to be asked; some didn't answer, probably finding our note stacked in a pile of "must-do-this-today's" six months later; some we didn't include because we ran out of space. On to the "sample" then.

Fr. William Leonard wandered around the U. S. and got to Rome, too, as well to the Congress of Pastoral Liturgy in Assisi. At the latter he was pressed into duty as an English interpreter.

Fr. Francis Sweeney spent the summer in Europe, mostly in Italy doing research for a book.

Fr. Paul FitzGerald, Dean of the Graduate School, in Rome researched his book on the Italo-Ethiopian war.

SOME WROTE

Dr. M. Kamil Dziewanowski added polish to his book, The Communist Party of Poland, to be published next spring by the Harvard University Press.

Prof. Michael Albery, besides speaking all over the place, including El Salvador, for the International Co-operation Administration, wrote a manual on Logistics for the Army.

Dr. Andre J. DeBethune, of Chemistry, seems to have spent most of his time in his lab on projects sponsored by International Nickel Co., and Union Carbide Nuclear Co. He did get to a couple of papers, though. One — to give you some idea — he co-authored with one of his students, Jerome J. Perez: The Dimensional Symmetry of Electrical and Magnetic Quantities in the Unrationalized MKS System of Units.

Prof. Henry McDonald, of Marketing, spent the summer with a pencil, too, but on a slightly more understandable project: a sales promotion and direct mail campaign for Tedeschi Supermarkets.

SOME DISCUSSED

Fr. John A. McCarthy took part in a series of discussions between Catholic and non-Catholic philosophers at St. Louis University.

Sr. Josephina, C.S.J., of Education, spoke in Burlington, Vt. on the Teaching of Spelling, and at B. C. led a section of the Conference of Superintendents and Supervisors of Catholic Schools in N. E.

Prof. Tom O'Connor, the News cartoonist, is also a historian. At Lawrence, Kansas, he was one of 35 profs. in a national conference on the "Progressive Period" of American History.

Prof. Mary O'Toole, of Education, at the 47th Annual Teachers Institute of the Boston Archdiocese, spoke on, "The Changing Curriculum in Business Education."

AND SOME JUST WORKED

Scientists Joseph Bornstein, Kenneth Tauer, Walter Finnian, Francis Maynard did research on matters as widely separated as metal chemistry and radioactive absorption in mouse melanoma tissue.

Prof. Fred Bryan, of Business Admin., did not loaf. A whole series of projects rattled about on his desk from a study of Tire Prices for Goodyear, to a measure of Olive Oil Usage for the Spanish Govt.

Prof. Vin Dunfey, C.B.A., followed "Fresh Fish Inland" for the U. S. Dept. of the Interior.

Prof. Marie Andrews, Nursing, took part in the most vigorous Anti-Polio Vaccination program in the state, in Watertown. 91% of eligibles got shots.

Prof. James O. Dunn, C.B.A., installed accounting systems at Emmanuel College and Kennedy Memorial Hospital.

Prof. Joseph V. D'Avella, C.B.A., for the Tower Mfg. Co., helped design and set up manufacturing methods for an astronomical instrument.

Anyone for rocking?

Father Rector's Report

THESE are days when much is demanded of American colleges and universities, and I am happy to say that Boston College is exerting every effort to meet the demand. The greatest problem which all schools face is that of increased enrollment. This one factor alone places a heavy burden upon the College — a burden of planning, budgeting, building, increasing faculties and facilities year by year. Fortunately we have been able to absorb the year by year increase of those students who give promise of profiting by a college education, and we anticipate doing our generous share in this as the years go on.

THE STUDENTS

On September 17, Boston College began her ninety-fourth year with a Fall enrollment of 5855 full-time students and 1697 part-time students. These latter are registered in the afternoon and evening divisions of the University. The increase in our student body over that of last year is about 500 students, or 7% of our full-time enrollment. This increment we have been able to absorb into our present facilities, though it required an increase of twenty new faculty members to meet it.

Of the more than 7500 students enrolled in our schools 628 come from outside the State of Massachusetts and 43 are from outside the United States. This is a very concrete indication of the need that exists at the College for an increase in our present dormitory facilities if we are to satisfy the desire of hundreds of students in other parts of our state and country to make their studies at Boston College.

THE FACULTY

Among the many concerns of college administrators one of the most important is the building and maintaining of a faculty of high calibre. This accomplishment, manifest in the quality of the faculty of the University, has been one of the outstanding achievements at Boston College over the years. Fortunately there has been a very solid base on which to build. And year by year in response to the growth of student enrollment it has been necessary to add substantially to our teaching staff and this increase has provided a continuing enrichment of our faculty in its preparation and scholarship that is worthy of note. One of the most obvious measures of this enrichment is the large number of men and women with doctorate and terminal degrees who have joined our faculties over the past five years. This in itself is not an infallible or a unique indication of high quality, but it has a definite significance in considering faculty strength and ability. It is vital, too, for the growth and development of our graduate departments.

The faculty at B. C. are the college in action — the academic Church militant, and upon them depends in no small measure the success of the program and the quality of student response and achievement. No report, however brief, would be complete without a sincere expression of gratitude to the members of our teaching staff.

In addition to this general expression of thanks there are specific efforts that call for a special word of commendation to individual members of our faculties.

The observance of the 400th anniversary of the death of St. Ignatius was celebrated throughout the world. One of the features of the observance of this event at Boston College was a series of three lectures given by members of our lay faculty on three aspects of the activities and life of St. Ignatius: Ignatius the Administrator by William Hickey, College of Business Administration; Ignatius the Educator by John J. Fitzgerald, School of Education; Ignatius the Saint by Vincent McCrossen, College of Arts and Sciences. All three of these subjects were very capably handled and presented to audiences which were impressed by the scholarly and interesting marshaling of materials which connoted much study and careful research.

During the past year Mr. Frank Murphy and his assistant, Mr. John Foley, of the Audio-Visual Department, prepared a half-hour film presentation in sound and color of the Boston College story entitled, The Towers on the Heights. The script was written by Professor John Sullivan of our English Department, and narrated by Mr. Bernard Senick, '58, a student in the School of Education from Newark, New Jersey. The excellent musical accompaniment was arranged by Miss Barbara Bennett of the faculty of the School of Education and recorded by our Glee Club under the direction of Mr. C. Alexander Peloquin, director of the Boston College Music Club. This film is one of the finest of its type. Those of the alumni who have seen it have been loud in their praise of the professional quality of the film and of all who had a part in its production.

During July, this summer, B. C. sponsored a special course in Modern Catholic Biblical Theology for Jesuit professors. 57 Jesuits from all over the country attended, including most of the B. C. Theology faculty.

TELEVISION

Ten years ago in a cooperative arrangement with the neighboring universities of the community we began a unique experiment in the development of adult education by radio. For the first five years the programs of our faculty members were broadcast by our Lowell Institute Cooperative Broadcasting Council over the local commercial broadcasting stations. Five years ago this month the members of the Council established our educational FM station, WGBH, a cooperative achievement that has won national as well as local recognition and acclaim. Two years ago the Council undertook the leadership in the field of educational television broadcasting and established our station WGBH-TV, broadcasting locally over Channel 2. The success of this development in community service and education has been manifest in the very favorable public response over the past two years.

During the past year Professor P. Albert Duhamel of our English Department has presented a very popular weekly broadcast on Channel 2 entitled, "I've Been Reading," a critical review by members of the faculty and guests from the universities of current books and publications of interest to the community. Dean Donald White and members of our faculty and the Advisory Council of our College of Business Administration presented an interesting televised series developed from our seminars on problems of the Boston Metropolitan Area. And Father Daniel Linehan, S.J., after his trips to the North and South Poles, televised several very informative reports on his expeditions in preparation for the International Geophysical Year.

But while the College has contributed more than $60,000 in support of this cooperative development in adult education, I think that we must attribute the quality and success of our achievement to the generous and voluntary service of the members of our faculties in this very important program of community service.

THE PLACEMENT BUREAU

No one deserves more credit for his fine and devoted work in behalf of our students and alumni than does Mr. George P. Donaldson, the Director of our Placement Bureau. To record thoroughly the activities and accomplishments of this bureau is far beyond the scope of this limited report. I am presenting here some incomplete statistics that will indicate the type and the volume of work that is being done in the Placement Bureau. (See end of report.) It is at best a fragmentary story, but a good one nonetheless.

THE FORD FOUNDATION GRANTS

On July 2, the College received from the Ford Foundation two grants which totaled one million dollars. The first of these two grants in the sum of $640,000 represents the first installment of an Endowment Grant to the College to be invested as an endowment, the income of which shall be used only to increase faculty salaries. The College, however, was left free to apportion such salary increases in any manner among teachers (of the rank of instructor or higher) who teach classes in liberal arts and sciences, whether graduate or undergraduate, or who teach classes in other undergraduate curricula. This grant included also a gift given in recognition of the contributed services of our Jesuit community. After July 1, 1966, the principal and income may be used for any educational purpose of the institution.

The second grant was a gift of $360,000. This represents the first installment of what is known as the Accomplishment grant. This grant is made in recognition of the efforts of Boston College to improve the status and compensation of its teachers. It may be used either for the increase of faculty salaries or to meet other pressing academic needs. It may also be spent in whole or in part, from time to time, as the College may determine.

On July 11, the Trustees of the College met and determined that the entire Ford grant should be invested and the income therefrom be used to increase our lay faculty salaries. This has been done, and the status of our staff has been improved and is now more in line with the goal to which we are looking forward. The budget for lay faculty salaries for this present year is $1,300,000. Surely Boston College and its alumni have every reason to be grateful to the Ford Foundation for this munificent gift, the largest we have yet received. This recognition of the needs of education and this very practical answer to that need will, we hope, be a spur to many others to continue the good work begun by the Ford Foundation, for in spite of this generous effort the need for assistance still exists if the colleges of the country are to rise to the challenge that faces them today.

THE PHILOMATHEIA CHAIR OF ENGLISH

For forty years the Philomatheia Club has been a source of many gifts to Boston College. Over those years this group of devoted women has worked unstintingly to assist the College in the establishment of scholarships, in the erection of buildings and in many other ways. On the occasion of the fortieth anniversary of the Club the College, recognizing its indebtedness to the Philomatheia Club, established in perpetuum the Philomatheia Club Chair of English and named Dr. P. Albert Duhamel Philomatheia Club Professor of English.

THE DEPARTMENT OF THEOLOGY

I think there is no exaggeration in the statement that no department in our University has developed with greater speed or more strength than the department of Theology. Under the chairmanship of Rev. William V. E. Casey, S.J., recently named dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, there has been a splendid reorganization of the courses offered in this department and an increase in faculty members so that today we have 18 full-time teachers of Theology and 10 part-time teachers devoted to this work. A course in Theology is required each year of all Catholic undergraduates as a requisite for graduation.

That the interest in this subject is a very vital one on the part of the professors is evidenced by the fact that some 60 Jesuits, who are engaged in this work, gathered at Boston College this past summer from all parts of this country and from Canada to follow courses in the Old and New Testament. These courses were given by Rev. Roderick MacKenzie, S.J. and Rev. David Stanley, S.J., both professors of Scripture in the Jesuit House of Studies in Toronto.

THE EVENING SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

On September 17, the first class of 125 students was enrolled in our newly inaugurated Evening School of Business Administration. This school is under the direction of Dr. Vincent Wright, who is dean of the school. Dr. Wright had taught in our College of Business Administration and in our Graduate School for several years and had been dean of the graduate business program at Northeastern University prior to his appointment as dean of our new Evening School here on campus.

The response to this venture in an evening program is most heartening, and we look forward to its continued development as an opportunity for higher education and professional advancement for the large numbers of qualified young men and women who are employed in business and industry in this metropolitan area.

SCIENCE WORKSHOP

During the past summer we introduced a new program of science education for a group of 60 high-school science teachers who came to the campus for a three-week Science Workshop. From July 9-27, a crowded schedule of lectures, laboratory sessions, and field trips filled the days of several brothers and fifty-five sisters from many different congregations. Most of the participants came from Massachusetts, but states as far away as North Carolina and Minnesota had their representatives.

Most of the morning sessions consisted of a long lecture, often with demonstrations, to the whole group on some current problem in the teaching of science; subjects ranged from astronomy to earthquakes, from the atomic nucleus to cell-division. The lecturers included staff members of Boston College departments, and several from Holy Cross. In the afternoons biologists, chemists and physicists met separately for more detailed discussion and laboratory sessions. One complete day, devoted to geophysics, was spent at our Seismological Observatory at Weston. Afternoon field trips to plants of the H. P. Hood Company, A. D. Little Company, and General Radio Company were conducted; on another an instrument show was put on by representatives of several instrument makers. A lunch on the last afternoon attended by lecturers and participants in the Workshop made a pleasant conclusion to three busy weeks.

Encouraged by the many favorable comments, and motivated by the necessity of doing our part to help high-school science teachers in their very important work, Boston College plans to run another Science Workshop next summer, possibly with the assistance of the National Science Foundation.

PARKING AREA

During the summer that part of the reservoir that had been filled in was leveled off and paved with hot-top for a parking space. The road on the college side of the reservoir was widened and resurfaced, and all traffic has been excluded from this area that the students might have ample parking facilities within the confines of the college property. Some twelve acres are set apart for student parking. This area has been striped for car stations and all other necessary signs, arrows, etc., have been painted in. Flood lights have been installed to care for future night parking. Over two thousand cars can be accommodated within this reservoir parking area.

Fr. Bernard Scully, S.J., '39, directed the B.C. Workshop for high school science teachers this summer. Here he demonstrates for two of his students.

This brief report will serve, I trust, to keep our alumni informed of some of the many and varied activities which are part of the Boston College program. For the interest in and the support of this program on the part of the alumni we are naturally very grateful. It is an earnest appraisal of your faith in your school and your confidence in those who guide its destiny. I know that our plans and aspirations will continue to receive your support and approval.

On Catholic Intellectuals

Rev. Charles Donovan, S.J., '33,
Dean, School of Education.

From an address by Rev. Charles F. Donovan, S.J., at the annual Faculty-Student Institute, St. Joseph College, West Hartford, Sept. 19, 1956, on the theme "The Catholic College and Catholic Intellectuals."

Monsignor John Tracy Ellis of Catholic University challenged our thinking last year by questioning whether our colleges are producing a due proportion of intellectual leaders. We may have felt that the standards used by Monsignor Ellis for judging intellectuality — inclusion in Who's Who or American Men of Science, attendance at graduate school, or possession of Ph. D.'s — while valid in themselves, ignore the significant intellectual contribution of so many bishops, priests, Brothers and Sisters in this country — a contribution which may justly be claimed by American Catholic higher education. But even after this and other reservations to Monsignor Ellis' case the fact remains that American Catholic colleges are sending forth too few leaders of international or even national recognition in letters, science, or philosophy.

All of us want our Catholic colleges to produce more and more intellectuals of the stature of Gilson or Dr. Hugh Taylor of Princeton. But we have to be realists enough to admit that even under optimum conditions not a half dozen out of a thousand undergraduates have the possibility of becoming intellectual leaders in this sense. I prefer to talk about a more ordinary, garden variety of intellectuality that is within the reach of any person of college ability.

Look at it this way. The world's record in the pole vault — over fifteen feet — is held by a man who was brought up in a country where hundreds of young men can vault over fourteen feet. He is not from Iran or Sumatra where no one pole vaults. The top amateur tennis players in the world are from Australia; they are the best in a country that has made tennis its national sport. To shift to a higher comparison, vocations to the priesthood and to the religious state normally occur in surroundings — home and school — that are vigorously Catholic. Of course the grace of God can enter most unlikely places, and counter the handicaps of an unwholesome environment. But usually vocations come to young men and women who are living in circumstances where the things of God, the priesthood, the religious life are held in honor. So also, Monsignor Ellis' intellectuality will usually spring from an environment that honors and practices intellectuality; and by raising the intellectuality of that environment (in our case, of the Catholic college) we increase the likelihood of our producing more eminent scholars and leaders.

When I speak of an intellectual collegian I do not refer to the Bohemian type or the egghead, the self-styled 'brain' who despises common people and common experience. Even honor students and those whose names appear on deans' lists do not automatically qualify as intellectuals. Pursuit of high grades sometimes turns students into anti-intellectuals. They study, but they study for the wrong reasons. They thirst, but for recognition, not for knowledge.

Intellectuality is an attitude and an appetite. It is an interest in and a thirst for learning. One cannot qualify as an intellectual if he learns only under compulsion, whether the compulsion be the exhortation of parents or professors, desire for honors, or fear of failure. Unless an undergraduate is impelled to learn from a desire to develop his own mental capacities and from an appreciation of the objective importance and excitement of truth, he cannot be called an intellectual. Other motives, of course, may influence his studies; but the dominant motives of a person such as we are describing are intellectual.

10 Best Books — 10 years, and a hundred meetings ago, a group of thoughtful alumni with Father John A. McCarthy, S.J. as chaplain, started a book discussion club. They've met (at each other's homes) 10 times a year without fail, discussed a different book at each meeting, enjoyed every minute of it. Members, active and inactive have included Nelson Erickson, '39, George O'Brien, '40, George Devlin, '39, Bill Rynne, Tom Quinn, '37, John Rogers, Dr. Jim Maloney, '42, Frank McCue, '42, Bob Lloyd, '39, John Kelley, '39, Tom Garrity, '50, Dr. John Cranley, '41, Paul Devlin, '39, John Donovan, '39. Here's their 10th anniversary memorial: a list of their 10 favorite books — Man and the State, Maritain; Wise Man from the West, Ricci; Crisis of Our Age, Sorokin; Faith and Freedom, Barbara Ward; Aquinas, Copleston; Of Sacraments and Sacrifice, Howell; Religion and the Rise of Capitalism, Tawney; Mary Tudor, Prescott; Unity of Philosophical Experience, Gilson; Age of Jackson, Schlesinger.

HON. JOHN J. BURNS, '21
Originator of the Thompson Foundation.

New MSS Enrich

B. C. Thompson Collection

REV. TERENCE L. CONNOLLY, S.J.

*"I fled Him down the labyrinthine ways
Of my own mind;*

THE crowning enrichment of the Francis Thompson Collection is the recent addition of the original MS of "The Hound of Heaven", the only Fair Copy of the poem, and the original MS of the "Essay on Shelley". These MSS of Thompson's greatest poetry and prose, are the gifts of the Francis Thompson Foundation, of which the Honorable John J. Burns, B. C. '21 was the originator and chief inspiration. It is to the zeal and sacrifices of Judge Burns and his associates, that the Library is indebted for this munificent gift, formally presented by Judge Burns, November 4th in the Library Auditorium. Present was a distinguished and discriminating audience that taxed the capacity of the auditorium, although tickets were withdrawn from sale two weeks before the event.

The B. C. Thompson Collection is now the most complete collection of Thompsoniana in existence, including MSS of all but 12 of Thompson's collected poems, more than 100 unpublished poems, more than 20 unpublished essays, 4 unpublished plays and 102 notebooks, besides a complete collection of rare and first editions. This collection is not merely a museum. It is primarily a workshop that has produced an annotated edition of Thompson's Collected Poems, a volume of 93 unsigned Literary Criticisms identified by material in the collection, numberless undergraduate and graduate theses of which the most recent are the Ph.D. thesis of Paul Thompson, at Brown University, and the three volume work by Pierre Danchin, at the Sorbonne. Scarcely a week passes without inquiries concerning Thompson's work which can be answered only by consulting material in the Collection. At present there are two publications in preparation — one of hitherto unpublished poetry, the other of unpublished prose. The crowning magnum opus will be a complete catalogue and bibliography of the Collection. Variations in the MSS just received, furnish interesting and new data that will also be published.

The original MS of "The Hound of Heaven" is signed "Francis Thompson", but the signature is in the handwriting of Wilfrid Meynell who rescued Thompson from his outcast existence in the streets of London and saved him, body and soul, man and poet. Meynell added the signature when sending the MS to the printer to be published July 1890, in Merry England — a monthly periodical founded and co-edited by Meynell and his distinguished wife, Alice Meynell. Later, on pages detached from Merry England, Thompson made important changes. These pages are in our collection, as are the only complete files of Merry England in America. The Fair Copy of the poem was written and signed by Thompson to be presented to Sir Sydney Cockerell, a close friend of the Meynells, one-time secretary to William Morris, and for many years Director of the Fitzwilliam Museum, Cambridge. His letters, recently published, were edited by Viola Meynell, who, as an infant, inspired Thompson's charming verses, "The Making of Viola". The MS of the "Essay on Shelley", an heirloom in the family of Wilfrid Blunt, was sold during World War I to Joseph Auslander, the poet. As owner of this MS and the others, Mr. Auslander refused to part with them until they could be procured for the Boston College Collection.

A MUSICAL SETTING

The presentation of the Thompson MSS was marked by another first: the American premiere of a Musical Setting of "The Hound of Heaven,"

"The Hound of Heaven."

*I fled Him down the nights and down the days,
I fled Him down the arches of the years,
I fled Him down the labyrinthine ways
Of my own mind; and in the mist of tears
He hid from Him, and under running laughter;
Up vistaed hopes I sped,
And shot precipitated
Down vistaed glooms of chasmed fears,
From those strong feet that followed, followed after.
But with unhurrying chase,* by a noted English composer, Maurice Jacobson. When first heard during the Birmingham Festival in England, 1954, this work was unanimously praised by outstanding critics. After paying tribute to its "power and passionate sincerity," Stephen Williams wrote, in the New York Times: "It is a powerful and exciting score, intensely dramatic, with masterly word-painting and conveying the urgency of an inescapable pursuit." In a more detailed review printed in the Musical Quarterly, Williams adds: "Jacobson brooded for twenty years over Thompson's most famous poem and finally paid tribute to it in a score distinguished by adroit musicianship, a powerful dramatic sense and a passionate, driving sincerity. . . . The main thing that strikes one about this score is the composer's heartfelt appreciation of words: the accent is infallibly right, and the music throughout gives an urgent sense of the awe-inspiring love which is inescapable."

Alex Crowley's reaction to the piece, expressed in the Musical Times, reads: "This is a fine work, strongly fashioned and sincerely envisaged. The difficult poem has been set impeccably and the verbal accentuations are not only cultured, but individually right. This in itself is a feat. Musically it is moving and colorful, with many subtle rhythmic effects. Technically, the composer's manipulations of the voices is assured and effective. A most significant setting, in which the poem becomes a living reality."

THE PELOQUIN CHORALE

Jacobson's challenging work was brilliantly interpreted by the Pelouquin Chorale, under the baton of C. Alexander Pelouquin, Director of Music at B. C., who organized the group. During the six years of its existence, this Chorale has been heard in 30 broadcasts on NBC's nationwide Catholic Hour. In the beginning this gifted group limited its repertoire to the work of 16th century polyphonic masters. Later, compositions of Des Pres, Monteverdi, Blitzstein, and the choral parts of Gluck's "Orpheus" were added, with several compositions by the able Director of the group, such as the Missa Sancti Bernardi and the Missa Christus Rex. Donald Sullivan, no stranger to Boston music lovers, gave a notable interpretation of the challenging and technically difficult part for solo tenor. In the duo piano accompaniment — a most difficult assignment — Beth Flanagan and Arthur MacKenzie showed the mastery familiar to those who have heard their performances with Arthur Fiedler and the Boston Pops Orchestra. A recording of the Chorale was made by WCRB and WGBH for their Sunday afternoon programs.

A PICTORIAL SEQUENCE

After the chorale, the audience moved to the Thompson Room to view the new MSS. On the walls above them hung fifteen panels of the Pictorial Sequence based on "The Hound of Heaven," painted by R. H. Ives Gammell, who had graciously loaned them for this occasion. They could scarcely have had a more appropriate setting — above the original MS of the poem that inspired them. The complete sequence, twenty-three panels, ranges in subject from birth to death and touches the heights and depths of the spirit that lie between. The first panel, here reproduced — a cowed figure with a questioning, perplexed look, holding an open book in one hand and a great key in the other, the key that will finally unlock the door of Truth — suggests the lines:

*I fled Him, down the labyrinthine ways
Of my own mind.*

The panels immediately after the first, portray the soul's flight in sorrow and short-lived pleasures and a vain turning to Nature and human friendships. The climax of surrender follows, and the soul, "naked," awaits the "uplifted stroke" of God's love in one of the most dramatic panels of the series. Continuing, the sequence portrays the agonized bewilderment of fresh conversion, dispelled by a trumpet sounding "From the hid battlements of Eternity." Straightway is seen the soul's response to the reassuring voice of the Divine Pursuer: 'Rise, clasp My hand, and come!' — and then, as in the closing cadences of the poem, is portrayed God's answer to Life's enigma — the key that unlocks the soul-sustaining Truth of God's Love:

*'Thou dravest love from thee,
who dravest me.'*

The panels have been thus described by Lucien Price: "grandiose in conception and brilliant in their mastercraftmanship. As a technical achievement alone, they are, of course, a Herculean feat. No one need wonder that they took fourteen years. We have in one gallery a life-work of an artifex maximus with the brush; we have, in sum, living and working in our midst, a classic painter who can do it in the grand manner; a thinker who can paint and a painter who can think."

This event in which the best of three Fine Arts — literature, music and painting — was blent with marked distinction, has taken its place of unique and richly merited preeminence in the cultural history of Alma Mater — a timeless memorial to the generous devotion of an illustrious son. The exhibition of Thompsoniana and the Pictorial Sequence will continue until Dec. 1st, open and free to the public, Monday through Friday, 9 A.M. to 9 P.M., Saturday, 9 A.M. to 5 P.M. Closed Sunday.

IT isn't very difficult to visualize the reaction of the Old Grad returning to Boston College after many years absence. He, who once journeyed up the long hill from Lake Street to the campus of two or three Gothic structures, would stare in amazement at the panorama of buildings before him — twenty-three in all. The glittering tops of fifteen hundred automobiles, snugly parked about the Reservoir, would startle him into the realization that Boston College has truly grown from the few hundred of his day into the thousands of the present day.

What would his reaction be as he walked along the ancient marble corridor, of what was then known only as the Tower Building, and found a section of its walls lined with modern mail boxes? And what if he were to meet there the fluent English-speaking Japanese, Frank Nakajima, or the energetic Hollander, Hans Hermans, or the ever-smiling Bill Gillies of Newfoundland, or the placid Chris McGibbon from faraway Aruba in the Netherlands Antilles? How did they ever come to Boston College, he would wonder. Once he used to know fellow classmates from faraway places like Lowell and Brockton. Now he meets young students from the real North and the real South, from East and West.

At this point the interest of the Old Grad might be sufficiently aroused to allow him to slip into an office adjoining these mail boxes. In that office, which was once a classroom where he himself struggled with the Odes of Horace, he would meet the Director of Housing and his Personnel and learn from them a new and growing phase of Boston College life — the growth and development of the Resident Student Body.

These resident students come, he would discover, from twenty-one different States and some nineteen different Countries. Three hundred seventy-one male undergraduate students live in six College dormitories; another three hundred fifty students — including sixty girls from the School of Education and seventy graduate students — live in approved homes near the College. More than five hundred of these students board in the College Dining Halls.

When the Old Grad leaves the Housing Office to find some more interesting facts of the present day Boston College, he should be convinced of one certain fact: the Boston College Eagle has grown and now spreads its wings almost over the entire world. Students from every land live here. And they've created a problem unknown to Old Grads: how to accommodate them.

Indeed, the Old Grad wouldn't recognize the place. Wait until — in very few years — the new quarters and auxiliary buildings have been added! Then he'll really feel lost.

...and Lynn to Lake Forest

Nicholas M. DuChemin, Prof.

Nicholas M. DuChemin, retired vice-president of the General Electric Company, has been appointed special lecturer in the Management Department of the College of Business Administration. Prof. DuChemin will conduct a seminar project, a credit course, for a small and select group of management seniors.

The brilliant industrialist began work with GE at the Lynn River Works in 1914. He is the first Lynn-trained man to rise from an apprentice to a vice-president. Since September, 1953, DuChemin has represented the chairman of the board of GE at the Canadian General Electric Company, Ltd., offices in Toronto. He became a member of the latter company's board of directors.

For years the name of Nicholas M. DuChemin was virtually synonymous with Lynn's stake in the vast General Electric industrial empire. He has been a vital influence in inducing General Electric management to expand its Lynn interests. Those familiar with the history of General Electric in Lynn over the past quarter century are aware of the great debt the community has owed to DuChemin over the years.

When other voices in the company favored a diminution of GE manufacturing in Lynn, "Nick" DuChemin was an eloquent spokesman for Lynn as a "General Electric City" of top rank. The most striking example of this advocacy in recent years was his successful appeal for construction of the modern laboratory opened in 1950 on Federal Street for the meter and instrument department. Later, when he advanced to his post as manager of GE's Small Apparatus Division, he played a vital role in the designation of Lynn as headquarters for the far-flung operation.

In August, 1954, DuChemin was presented a ruby pin in recognition of 40 years' service with the company. The presentation was made by Phillip Reed, board chairman, in New York City, with Ralph J. Cordiner, president, and other top ranking GE officials present. Shortly after DuChemin's appointment to vice-president in 1951, Lynn paid a rousing civic salute to him in a gala testimonial dinner, attended by 350 community leaders.

This latest addition to the CBA faculty offers its students an unparalleled opportunity to "bleed the brains" of a man who knows industrial management as few men in New England know it.

Nicholas M. DuChemin, retired General Electric vice-president, Boston College lecturer.

Wallace E. Carroll, '28, WOC

Here's a Horatio Alger plot with a switch: from rags to riches, and back again.

Almost back again, anyhow: come spring Wallace Carroll, '28 joins the ranks of the Washington WOC's, which alphabetic cognomen means Working Without Compensation.

This time though he can afford it. Back in 1933, with an A.B. and half-an-M.B.A. (from Harvard's B-School) in his kit, he was earning exactly $18 a week doing time study for Reed and Barton Co. in Taunton. Today his American Gage and Machine Co., started in 1941, employs 2000 people in 12 plants from Canada to Cuba, (plus New Rochelle, Stamford, Chicago, Batavia, Aurora, Wabash and Muncie) makes precision gages, punch presses, truck bodies, TV tubes and vending machines!

In a note to the Alumni Office, Wallace made the understatement of the day regarding his career: "It takes 10 years to really get a foothold in business, although in today's economic climate, the opportunities are many for those who will really make the sacrifice in time and effort to make the most of them."

To his new unpaid post in the Dept. of Commerce as Director of the Metalworking Equipment Division, Business and Defense Services Administration, Wallace Carroll brings more than industrial management skill. He will be undoubtedly the only man in the Capitol with real experience in handling burros (viz. small jackasses).

Not that this latter competence will come in handy at all, but there it is. And not only burros. On the Le Wa Farm, operated by the Carrolls and one hired hand, are raised besides white deer, sheep, quail, pheasant, squab and 10,000 chickens, all (the chickens, that is) electronically fed.

One thing is sure, Wallace is one WOC who'll eat well, compensation or no.

The Carrolls of Lake Forest, Illinois, Lee and Wallace (see where the Le Wa comes from?) and their four youngsters, Pat and Denny, the older boys, and Barry and Lelia.

B. C. CLUBS

Connecticut

On Tuesday, December 11, 7 P.M., at the Waverly Inn in Cheshire, Conn., club members will gather for dinner and to see the film of the B.C.-Holy Cross game. Dr. Tim Curran, '34, club president and secretary, Tom Duffy, '36 urge members to make early reservations.

The Stag Picnic held on August 4th at Dr. Curran's home in West Hartford was most enjoyable. About 20 members gathered for hot dogs, hamburgers, beer and a little athletic activity.

Denver

At a recent meeting of the Club the following officers were elected: James F. McTiernan, '36, president; Francis A. Smith, '40, vice-president, and Dr. Frank C. Kane, '37, secretary-treasurer.

The first social event of the year was a dinner for members and their wives and friends held on October 18. A smoker will be held on December 7th and a football film will be shown along with the new 16mm film in color and sound of "The Towers on the Heights". Highlight of the year will be Father Rector's visit in January. A reception has been planned for January 23 in Evergreen, Colorado.

Detroit

President Paul Ryder, '47, sends word that the get-together after the B.C.-Detroit football game... "was by far the most successful social event the Club has put on to date, and the enthusiasm shown by the membership in attendance indicates a successful year ahead for the club..." Credit for the success of the affair goes to Larry McCarthy, '32, vice-president and chairman of the Social Committee; Bill Pfau, '51, secretary-treasurer, Paul King, '43 CBA, and Jack Ward, '55 CBA. Among the Alumni present were: Al Ferguson, '42, CBA; Tom Robinson, '47; Bill Pfau, '51; Dr. Paul McGrath, '41; Larry McCarthy, '32; Paul King, '43, CBA; Jack Ward, '55 CBA; Lex Blood, '53 CBA (all the way from Boston); Tom O'Connell, Joe Tobin, '51 CBA; John Howley, '55 CBA; Paul Bernier, '55 CBA; Frank Donovan; Paul Woods, '52 CBA; Fred Donaher, '20; John Gunn, '51; Tom Carroll, Bill Lewis, Jack Kennedy, Bill Brown, '55

The schedule of the club calls for a President's Party in February; Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast, March 31; Rector's Reception, April, and the Annual Meeting and Election of Officers in May.

Florida

Andy Bismarck, '39, was in charge of arrangements for the Florida Club meeting which preceded the B.C.-U. of Miami game by a few weeks according to a letter received from president Joe Delaney '44. The meeting was held at the Coral Gables Country Club. After the business meeting members and wives enjoyed dancing. On the night before the game Jack Beatty '41 and his wife were hosts to club members, wives and friends at their Bal Harbour home. Almost the entire membership of the Club was present including new member George L. Murphy, '41, who has recently moved to Miami; Dr. Paul Coughlin, '37, and his wife who journeyed down from Talahassee; loyal alumnus John Mackin, '33, Boston; John P. Curley, '13, graduate Manager of Athletics, and Alumni Secretary Bill Flynn, '39. Also guests of the Club were the Dean and Assistant Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences, Rev. William J. V. E. Casey, S.J., '35, and Rev. Oliver E. Nickerson, S.J.

Los Angeles

President Bill Duffy, '35, sends word that a committee is being formed to make arrangements for the Reception to be held in honor of Father Rector on January 15. Members will be notified of details and it is requested that you plan now to attend. Father Rector will show the new 16mm color and sound film on the College "The Towers on the Heights".

New York

The B.C. Club of New York, Frank X. Donelan, '48, president, has a full schedule for the 1956-57 club year for the Alumni in the Metropolitan area. Events listed on the club calendar are: October 4, Informal get-together at the New York Athletic Club; October 20, "After the Game Cocktail Party" at the Hotel Roger Smith in New Brunswick, N.J.; November 8, Lecture by Rev. Daniel Linehan, '27, Chairman, B.C. Department of Geophysics; December 6, B.C.-H.C. football film with Head Coach Mike Holovak, '43 and Bill Flynn, '39, alumni executive secretary; December 27, New York Club of Boston College undergraduate Christmas dance; January 11, Cocktail Party after the B.C.-N.Y. Athletic Club basketball game; March 31, Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast; April, Annual Retreat at Manresa; May, Father Rector's Dinner.

Over fifty alumni attended the first social of the year on October 4. It was a memorable night.

A notice that the 1956-57 annual dues are now payable has been sent to all members. It is by dues that we are able to support and sponsor the activities of the Club. (Make check payable to the Boston College Club of New York).

The Club's Scholarship Fund has received two additional individual contributions—with this continued support it won't be long before we will be able to keep some young man or woman with a small grant. The Club's new permanent address is: The Boston College Club of New York, P. O. Box 114, Grand Central Station, New York, 17, N. Y.

Philadelphia

Alumni in and around the Philadelphia area joined with the New York Club for a cocktail party get-together at the Roger Smith Hotel, New Brunswick, N.J., after the Rutgers game on October 20. Paul Lambert, '44, president, writes that the Club will concentrate on a large turn-out for the Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast in March. (Paul's new address is Maple View Apts. #5A, 50 W. Maple Avenue, Merchantville, N. J.)

San Francisco

Early in September the Club held the first of a series of monthly parties for the Jesuit Shadowbrook Fund at the Hunters' Point Officers Club. President Ed Hogan, Jr., '30, asks for the support of all members for these affairs.

A reception and dinner honoring Father Rector is planned during Father's visit to California in January. Members will be notified of the date and place as soon as final arrangements are completed.

Washington, D. C.

The Club had an auspicious start for the season with the reception and dinner for Father Rector which was held in the Park Room of the Shoreham Hotel on October 24th. All alumni present had an opportunity to meet and talk with Father Rector personally. In the receiving line were Hon. Edward L. Roddan, '20, former Ambassador to Uruguay; Dr. George F. Donovan, '25, and James I. Rooney, '18. Another honored guest at the affair was the Hon. John A. Volpe, former Commissioner of Public Works in Massachusetts and now Federal Highway Administrator.

John J. Mitchell, '37, was chairman, assisted by Club President Anthony J. Perry, '26; vice-president Anthony P. Flynn, '36; John B. Clinton, '52, secretary-treasurer; Rev. Joseph L. Teletchea, '39, chaplain; Charles F. B. McAleer, '44; Frederick C. Leonard, Jr., '45; Thomas P. Murphy, '41; Charles Don Floyd, '36; Charles A. Magner, '36, and Thomas F. Curry, '43.

The following events are scheduled: Pre H.C.-B.C. Luncheon, November 29, Chairman, Alfred M. Fiorentino, '43;

Shown below at the luncheon held at Miller Inn before the B.C.—Marquette game in Milwaukee, left to right, Lawrence V. Donovan, '30, chairman of arrangements; Rev. Maurice V. Dullea, S.J. '17, faculty moderator of athletics; Wallace E. Carroll, '28, Chicago; Father Rector, Herbert L. Chernack, '39, president, Chicago Club.

Pre-lenten cocktail party, February 27, 1957, Chairman, Thomas P. Murphy, '41; Laetare Sunday Communion Breakfast, Chairman, Joseph L. O'Brien, '27, and speaker, Rev. Robert F. Drinan, S.J., '42, Dean of the Law School.

West Roxbury

The first annual fall dance of the Club was held at Alumni Hall on Saturday evening, November 10. Thomas F. True, '38, was chairman of the successful affair. President Nat Hasenfus, '22, hopes the get-together will prove the revival of what was a very active organization.

Wisconsin

For the Boston College-Marquette football game on Oct. 13th, alumni with their wives and families converged on Milwaukee from all directions. Wisconsin, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri were the states represented. About 150 in all, for many their first opportunity to enjoy Milwaukee's famed 'gemuetlichkeit', were in attendance from little Eaglets to bald and graying Eagles. The Boston College Club of Wisconsin had the good fortune of having the Miller Brewing Co. offer their facilities. The affair was held in the world wide known Stein Hall. The Miller High Life people graciously served a very fine lunch accompanied, of course, by you know what.

The new color film "The Towers" was shown and excellently received. The best part of the program was the welcome arrival of Father Maxwell, S.J. Father Rector, at great personal inconvenience, was able to make connections to Milwaukee and in his brief but very informative talk gave all present an up-to-date picture of what is now going on at the Heights. Other visitors from the college party were Father Maurice Dullea, S.J., '17; John P. Curley, '13; Frank Bowden, Bill Flynn, '39; Dr. Dick Gorman, '31, and Charlie Harvey, '49.

From here, the party went a few blocks to Marquette stadium and because of the score enjoyed themselves immensely.

Among those in attendance were:

Wisconsin — Mr. and Mrs. Larry Donovan '30 and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brendan J. Hall '34, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McGann '25, John F. O'Brien '51, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bellew '41, George Sawicki '40, Edgar Morton '55, Nick Gallinaro '52 CBA, Bob Ferroli, '52 CBA, Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughan '35 and family and Father Thomas F. Dempsey.

From Illinois: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Chernack '39 and family, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Waitkunas '45, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper '51, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Carroll '28, George Hendrick '16, Mr. and Mrs. Don Thibault '51, William Harwood '51, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Travers '49, John Masterson '40, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. O'Meara '34, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bernard '44, Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Waitkunas '45, Mr. J. T. McGuire, '39, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore '44, Mr. and Mrs. Art Dorsey.

From Minnesota: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shea '33.

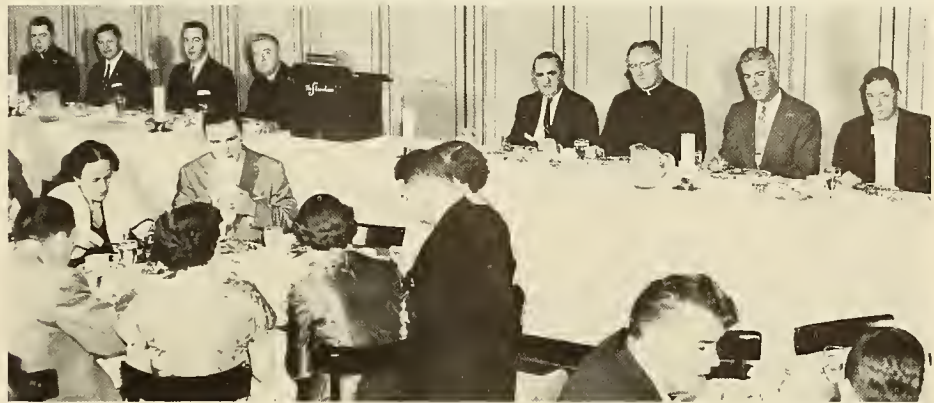

From Indiana: Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCarthy '50 and R. J. Dumaine '51.

The finest family turnout was by the entire W. J. Waldron '27 family (7 in all) from Boston. Also present were the parents of Don Miller, halfback. Others, no doubt, were missed by the registration committee which was composed of future coeds from Milwaukee.

SPORTS

by Charles J. Harvey, '49

FOOTBALL—In late summer, Coach Mike Holovak expressed the feeling that the forthcoming B. C. football squad would be too young and inexperienced to do better than to win a couple of games. Too many towers of strength have gone from the line, too much will be asked of untried sophomores.

The young team has won four games out of seven as of this writing. By this time you know the results of the Brandeis and Holy Cross games. Here's hoping it now stands 6 out of 9.

Miami 6-27—The Eagles surprised the Hurricanes and nearly upset the Orange-cart . . . 2 interceptions and a bad pitch out gave Miami 3 touchdowns and the decision . . . BC must have done pretty well though, judging from Miami's top National rating today.

Marquette 26-19—An inspired Marquette team made things hot for the Eagles but a sudden reversal of form in the second half spurred the B.C. victory . . . the Warriors played one of their best games for Coach Johnny Druze, former BC and Notre Dame Leahy assistant in his first season at Marquette.

Rutgers 32-0—B.C. kept the Scarlet Knights from reaching 100 straight games of scoring . . . Rutgers hadn't been shut out since Lafayette turned the trick in 1944 . . . the Eagles just overpowered Rutgers.

Detroit 7-12—A nightmare in the middle of the afternoon . . . just couldn't hang onto the ball . . . the Detroit coach, happy enough to win, almost couldn't believe it — who could?

Villanova 7-6 — The Eagles' first showing at home was a good one . . . a tough Villanova team, which B.C. had to battle all the way, succumbed to the touch of Captain Henry Sullivan's toe which pumped the extra point through the uprights.

Quantico Marines 6-20—For some reason or other the Marines appeared determined to beat B.C. The Marines galaxy of former star collegians, of which four were regulars at the Heights last year, gave the BC team a fairly sound trouncing . . . Only a last ditch toss by Billy Donlan to Jim Colclough put BC in the scoring column.

Boston University 13-0—The Eagles had complete control of the game . . . Sophomore Don Allard sparked at quarterback and provided the game's top thrill, a 75-yard punt return which set up the second touchdown . . . another sophomore, halfback Alan Miller, was the Eagles' big ground gainer and scored the second t.d. . . . Bernie Teliszewski scored the big, first one.

From here on its Brandeis and Holy Cross.

The Judges feature the passing ability of Jimmy Stehlin and could be dangerous if the Eagles are looking a week ahead to the Crusaders . . . Holy Cross has won four, lost three and tied one . . . a topsy-turvy season for Holy Cross . . . nipped 13-14 by Dayton, rebounded with a big 20-6 win over Colgate, and then bombed 43-0 by Penn State, tied by Dartmouth 7-7, repelled the Quantico Marines 13-0, dumped B.U. 21-12, battled but lost to Syracuse 20-41, and trounced Marquette 41-0.

While our initial fear was that youth and inexperienced Sophomores would prevent a successful season it appears that the youth has been instrumental in bringing about victories.

Alan Miller certainly is the best looking sophomore halfback B.C. has known in many moons. He produced a touchdown against Miami with a 58-yard pass interception, and is the team's leading ground gainer with an average of 5.5 yards per carry.

Leon Bennett moving in as a regular tackle; Bobby Murphy and Don Allard capturing regular assignments were items almost unthinkable back in early September. Still, Allard has proven himself capable as a split-T signal caller; he is averaging 3.0 yards for the 33 times he has carried the ball this year.

There are a number of other Sophs who have been providing Mike Holovak with some pretty good football this year and together with those Juniors and Seniors have produced results better than expected.

. . . Could be even bigger days ahead.

BASKETBALL—Coach Don Martin is "cautiously optimistic" about the 1956-57 basketball season at the Heights.

A few lettermen have returned to the varsity but the big excitement is centered around the sophomore group. Up from the freshman team which won 22 and lost only one game last year are a number of outstanding prospects headed by 6'4" George Giersch of New York City; 6'5" John McGrath of Worcester; 6'5" Joe Manning of Portland, Me., and the big-little play-maker 5'11" Bob "Luke" Latkany of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Captain Paul McAdams, former Mission High star, and the Eagles' third-high scorer last winter, heads the varsity this season. Also back is Jack Harrington, 6'3" forward from Rhode Island, who was the high man for B.C. last year with 236 points.

Fullback Bernie Teliszewski up and over the B. U. goal line for B. C.'s first touchdown. Final score, B. C. 13 — B. U. 0.

B.C. opens the season with Brown at the Brandeis University gym on the night of the Holy Cross game.

HOCKEY—While John "Snooks" Kelley might prefer to talk about that big, big freshman hockey team Bernie Burke has in tow, he's still got a pretty fair varsity sextet lined up for the coming winter season.

Captain Joe Moylan heads a host of varsity returnees such as Dick Kane, Carl Marino, Don Fox, Dick Michaud, Paul Sheehy, Billy Leary, Jack Cadagan, Myles Cassidy, Ed Coakley and the center iceman who's still busy playing halfback for Mike Holovak, Jim Tiernan. Tiernan, incidentally, is currently featured in the recent edition of the NCAA Hockey Guide.

While Coach Kelley has this big group of veterans back he also has gained some strength from the 1955 frosh group. Still, he'll need a lot of help this year as the word is out that the whole circuit is vastly improved this year . . . B.U., Harvard, Northeastern and the teams up North—all as good—if not better than a year past.

The BC squad had its first test and one that showed promise for Coach Kelley's boys—a one period, one to one tie with the U.S. Olympic team.

JACK RYDER TRACK CLUB—The Annual Communion Breakfast was held on Sunday, November 25. Members received at the 9 A.M. Mass at St. Mary's Chapel and breakfast followed at Alumni Hall.

Plans are also being made for the Annual Meeting and a big Track Night to be held in December following the return of Olympic contestant Hal Connolly and others. There will be films of the Olympics and talks by various guest speakers. The meeting is open to all those interested in track including students.

GRADUATE ATHLETIC BOARD—Chairman Nat Hasenfus, '22 reports that the Graduate Athletic Board held a meeting at Alumni Hall on Tuesday, October 30. Discussed by the Board members were several important items: the new constitution that is being considered for the Board, the football schedule for years in the immediate future, and the current plans for playing the 1957 football games on Alumni Field. Architect's plans for the new gymnasium were presented to the Board by the Rev. Maurice Dullea, S.J., Faculty Director of Athletics.

Mass of the Holy Spirit

On the first day of classes, the annual Mass of the Holy Spirit was celebrated on the steps of the Baptist Library by His Excellency, Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, D.D., '17, Archbishop of Boston. Assisting His Excellency were Very Rev. Francis J. Lally, '40, Editor of The Pilot, Rev. Joseph Gauthier, S.J., and Rev. Harold Kirley, S.J.

The Archbishop, in his address, said that the press has underestimated undergraduate colleges, implying that they have slumped, and from graduate schools only can we search for the leaders colleges once offered. However, contrary to this opinion, the majority of students seek their tasks and perform them faithfully.

The Archbishop concluded by telling us of the most important classroom here, the Chapel; "... where Christ Himself teaches forever, the most important course possible, with His Holy Mother as assistant Counsellor and Dean of Vocations. Not in books or in buildings, but in them, lies the essential answer of Catholic Education."

More Colorful Swearing

Two new regulations go into effect this fall that many of us would have faced with dismay, or indeed with disaster, during our sojourn on the Heights. 1, Conditional exams are out, and as the Heights reporter neatly put it, this may well revive the more colorful forms of swearing. 2, All who flunk more than 6 credits work are out. Period. Wow.

Help for New Nurses

Enrollment is up in the School of Nursing: 67 students were admitted to the basic program this fall, the largest class yet. Grants are coming too: 1, the biggest was $11,661 from the Division of Mental Health to help prepare students to work with the mentally ill. 2, A number of traineeships were also granted under the Health Amendment act of 1956, for graduate nurses in Public Health Nursing.

7th Course in Spectrography

For the seventh successive year the intensive course in Modern Industrial Spectrography was conducted this fall at Boston College under the direction of Fr. James J. Devlin, S.J. of the Physics Department. Forty students attended, representing fifteen different states, the District of Columbia and Canada. Instrumentation of a value of approximately $100,000 was loaned by Jarrell Ash Co., Newtonville; Baird Associates, Cambridge, and Atlantex Corporation of Boston, New England representatives for North American Phillips Co. Since the inception of the course more than 200 students have been trained, all of whom are highly pleased with the work being done at B. C. in this important field.

Assisting Fr. Devlin were Professors John W. Shork '31 and John J. Power '35 of the Physics Dept. Robert O'Malley '40 of the Chemistry Dept. served as staff consultant in Chemistry.

Student Wins $500 Award

At a recent Accounting Club meeting, Allen V. Reilly, CBA '57, was announced the first winner of the Haskins and Sells Foundation Inc. award at Boston College. The grant of $500 is given annually to a student who is selected by the Faculty Committee as displaying excellent ability in the field of accounting.

Mr. Reilly, a Dean's List student and a veteran of the Korean conflict, is president of the campus Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi.

The award was made by Arthur Koelbel, managing partner of Haskins and Sells, who also spoke on Public Accounting.

B. C. Computes at M. I. T.

Two members of the Department of Mathematics have been appointed to the computer programming group at the new IBM Computation Center which commences at MIT this fall. A new addition to the Faculty, Dr. W. E. Perrault, will be a Research Associate, and a graduate student, Mr. J. A. Riley, a Research Assistant. They will prepare research problems for the computer, and advise other faculty members on the use of the machine. Joining with about two dozen others, half from M. I. T., half from the other universities of New England, they will be part of the scientific staff of the latest type of high-speed computer, an IBM 704, capable of 40,000 additions per second.

The Computation Center is made possible through the munificence of the late Mr. Thomas Watson, president of IBM, which is presenting the instrument to MIT for the use of the colleges of New England. IBM is also providing, in addition to the funds for the programming staff, a wing for the Center on MIT's new K. T. Compton Memorial Physics Laboratory.

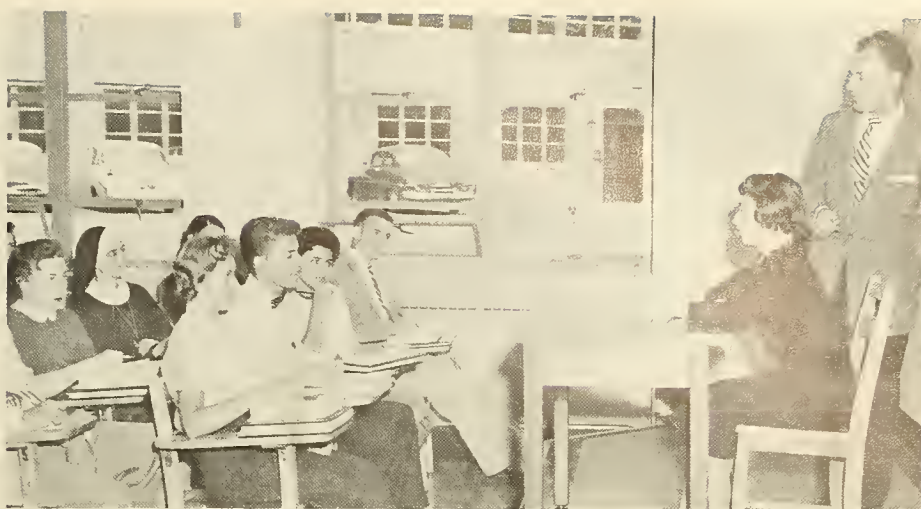

As a participant in the program, Boston College will have easy access to the machine, both for faculty research and for training students in the latest techniques of machine computation. Preliminary training courses were given this summer and will continue until the machine is installed, in the early spring of 1957. Planning for this joint project has been carried out by a committee of representatives of the various interested institutions. Boston College is represented by Fr. William G. Guindon, S.J., Chairman of the Department of Physics.

THE ORIENTATION PROGRAM for Freshmen in the School of Education was conducted this year by upperclassmen. The Freshman class, numbering 190 students, was divided into groups of ten. The teams of upperclassmen, with two students in each team, moved from group to group discussing and explaining five prepared topics. (One such group is pictured above.) The topics selected for presentation to the Freshmen were: The Structure of the University; Student Government; Campus Activities for Students; School of Education Student Activities; and Manners and Mores at Boston College. The aim of the program was to interest students in the many activities available to them.

READING WELL has been determined to be a most significant difference between good and poor college students. To correct reading difficulties of incoming freshmen, Boston College provided this past summer a course "College Reading". The course was so successful that it has been retained and many upperclassmen who read well are taking it to increase their reading skill. Pictured above with an A. V. R. Rateometer are Rev. Edmond Walsh, S.J., Dean of Admissions, Miss Margaret E. Byrne, Director of Reading, and Rev. George F. Lawlor, S.J., '33.

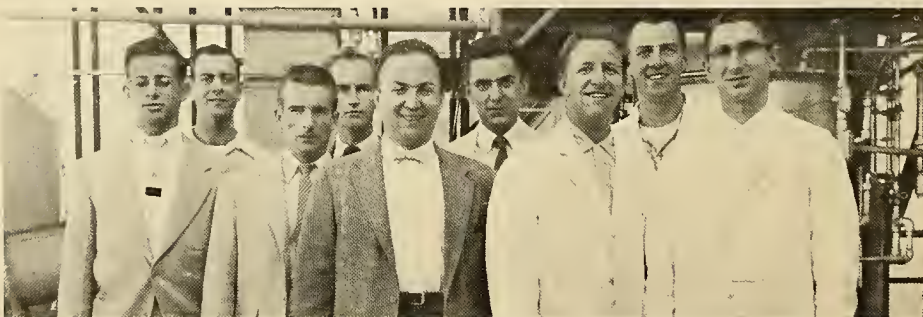

Students turn to face the descending colors at afternoon retreat ceremony recently instituted by Boston College ROTC unit. The colors are raised by a detachment of cadets at 9 every morning and lowered at 4 every evening.

transportation problems of the Boston area for the Governor's Committee on Regional Transportation.

Performed labor market surveys and time-distance studies, thus helped to obtain satisfactory locations for several manufacturers moving into this area.

Written a manual on economic development designed to assist local groups in seeking new industry to bolster the economic base of local communities.

Studied the inland distribution of fresh fish involving studies of consumer attitudes and marketing practices in Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and Nashville.

B. C. Chemists at R. M. D. Lab

The Raw Materials Development Laboratory in Winchester (operated by the National Lead Company, Inc. for the Atomic Energy Commission) is the only research and development group in this country devoted exclusively to the problem of extracting uranium from its ores. The laboratory is also unique in that 9 of the 27 chemists on the staff are B. C. alumni.

Among the charter members of the group are Paul Magno and Bob Allen, '52, who have been at the laboratory for about four and a half years. Paul is presently engaged in some fundamental studies on the dissolution of uranium minerals in carbonate solutions while Bob is working on solvent extraction processes for the recovery of uranium. Oscar Nietzel, '51, followed Paul and Bob about a year and a half later after working for the AEC at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory and the Reactor Testing Station in Idaho. Oscar is presently engaged in the development of analytical methods. Mike DeSesa, '49, who joined the staff three and a half years ago after obtaining his Ph.D. at M.I.T., served as Head of the Analytical Department. Bernie Wessling, '53, joined the staff after obtaining an M.S. from B.C. in 1955. Bernie is leader of the methods development section in the Analytical Department. Bob Ford, '50, who is presently attending B. C. Law School in the evening division, is employed as an analytical chemist as is Paul Vozzella, '56, the newest member of the group. Bob Barry, '53, became a staff member after obtaining an M.S. from Tufts in '54. Bob is presently engaged in some fundamental studies in the chemistry of uranium and vanadium in carbonate solutions. Frank Bonarrigo, '54, joined the staff on graduation from B. C., and is doing development work on the extractive metallurgy of uranium.

C. B. A.'s 4th Annual

400 C.B.A. Alumni attended the fourth Annual Dinner served in the Welsh Dining Room of Lyons Hall on Campus, Saturday evening, October 27. Dean Stanley Teele, of the Graduate School of Business Administration, at Harvard, and currently the president of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business spoke on "Knowledge and Wisdom in Business Education."

Toastmaster John J. Connolly, '45 presented, besides Dean Teele, Father Rector, Father Joyce and Vincent Wright, Dean of the Evening Division of Business Administration.

Chairman Bob Kincade, '52, arranged one of the first showings of the 28 minute feature picture of Boston College "Towers on the Heights"; the crowd enjoyed the "preview."

Catholic Thought Explained

The Institute of Adult Education recently opened its fall series of lectures, which will be conducted in Gasson Hall at 8 on the next six Wednesday evenings and which will center on the general theme, Catholic Thought and the Contemporary Mind. The first lecture was given by Rev. Edward H. Nowlan, S.J., '32, on October 17th.

The following information will help you in answering questions that you may be asked by students interested in attending Boston College. For further information write to Rev. Edmond D. Walsh, S.J., Director of Admissions, Boston College, Chestnut Hill 67, Massachusetts, or call DEcatur 2-3200, Extension 212.

ADMISSION TO BOSTON COLLEGE

APPLICATION

Application for admission should be made early in the student's senior year. Special application forms are supplied by the Admission's Office.

METHOD OF ADMISSION

Graduates of accredited high schools are admitted by entrance examinations. All applicants for admission must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board. This test may be taken in the December, January, February, March or May series. This test is administered by the College Entrance Examination Board, P. O. Box 592, Princeton, New Jersey. Candidates are urged to take this test no later than March. Candidates are notified of admission approximately five to six weeks after the date of the College Entrance Examination Board test taken by the candidate.

The Candidate's high school record and the recommendation of the high school principal are paramount factors in determining acceptance.

COURSES RECOMMENDED FOR ADMISSION

Boston College recommends that units for admission include the following: English 4, Algebra 1 and Plane Geometry 1.

There is no language requirement for admission to any division of Boston College. However, in the School of Education, two years of a modern foreign language may be substituted for Algebra and Plane Geometry.

Students desiring to major in Mathematics, Physics or Chemistry must present additional units in Mathematics.

Students are admitted on the basis of scholarly attainment, character and ability to profit by college studies.

The Director of Admissions is always happy to interview the candidates for admission and discuss with them their program of studies. Personal interviews may be arranged by calling DEcatur 2-3200, Extension 212.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Boston College takes pride in the large number of alumni who have been assisted in receiving a Catholic education. Students with interest and ability but limited financial resources frequently may obtain aid in the form of grants, scholarships and loans. Financial assistance ranges from $100 to $700. All scholarship candidates must file a formal application for admission. After the application has been received, an application for financial aid will be sent to the candidate. All scholarship candidates must take the Scholastic Aptitude Test given by the College Entrance Examination Board in January, February or March.

EXPENSES AND HOUSING

The tuition fee is $700 per year. Laboratory fees attached to some courses are noted in the College Bulletin. Books and supplies will average from $40 to $60.

The fee for board and room is $700 per year. Cardinal O'Connell Hall, St. Joseph's Hall, Claver Hall, Xavier Hall, Loyola Hall and Southwell Hall provide campus boarding facilities for men. Meals are served in the new cafeteria in Lyons Hall.

Women students board off campus in dormitories located ten minutes from the college and supervised by the Dean of Women.

JOHN S. KEOHANE
1147 Tremont St., Boston

Fifty years ago on the Tuesday after Labor Day which was the traditional opening day for Boston College High then, the original members of our class enrolled at the old building on James Street. We find on the roster of that time the names of the following who spent four years in the High School and three years in the College Department there and completed our senior year at the Heights in 1914; ERIC F. MacKENZIE, THOMAS F. DEVLIN, DANIEL J. YOUNG, JOHN S. KEOHANE, EDWARD A. SULLIVAN, JAMES P. BRENNAN, JOHN W. KAPPLES, WILLIAM J. O'SULLIVAN, JOHN R. TAYLOR, FRANK P. DOYLE, THOMAS J. FINNEGAN, WILLIAM J. DESMOND, PATRICK J. DAWSON and FREDERICK J. DEASY. Ours was the first Senior Class to spend a year at the Heights. JOHN J. HOGAN principal of the Rollins School at Lawrence has resigned from the School Department after forty-two years of efficient service leaving behind him a notable record of Community service.

Born: BILL O'SULLIVAN'S newest grandson, Brian Francis, to Francis X '50 and Mrs. O'Sullivan, July 11.

FATHER JIM KELLEY, S.J., after an extended term as Rector of the Immaculate Conception Church and Boston College High School, is the new Father Minister of St. Mary's Church in the North End.

Engaged: FATHER PAT DAWSON'S niece, Helen Patricia King '56 to A. William Kennedy '56 of Riverside, Rhode Island.

Engaged: JIM DUNBAR'S daughter, Denyse (Regis '55) to Carl J. Maddaleni '51.

We enjoyed a prolonged visit at Harwich Port with our DOCTOR ED SULLIVAN who, far from the maddening crowd's ignoble strife, is enjoying his idyllic life in that beautiful part of Cape Cod. Periodic visits from different members of the class keep him well-informed as to the outside world and prevent him from going eremitical. Happy hibernation, Ed.

DAN YOUNG, counsel for the Special Service Department of the Federal Government at Boston, has moved from Milton to 37 Beacon Street, Beacon Hill.

The Class extends sincere sympathy to TOM FINNEGAN on the death of his mother on September 20, at the age of ninety-three.

Our illustrious Assistant District Attorney FRED DOYLE certainly made the headlines in the sensational Brink's case just concluded. FRED'S son, Richard passed the bar examinations. His other lawyer sons are Fred Jr., William and Representative Charles, '50.

Born to JOHN KEOHANE'S son, Lieutenant Francis X. Keohane, U.S.A. and Mrs. Keohane their first child, Kerry Joan, at Babenhausen Kaserne, Germany, July 22.

MONSIGNOR DOYLE is the new pastor of St. Joseph's Parish, Medford. LEO DALEY'S new address is 16 Garden Street, Cambridge.

PAT DONOVAN recently returned from his trip to Ireland. He looks and feels fine.

FRED GILLIS' son is now a dentist in West Roxbury.

JOE SHEEHAN and JOHN MITCHELL are working together at the V. A. in Boston.

FATHER HENRY WENNERBERG, S.J. is now Spiritual Advisor at the B.C. School of Education.

THOMAS D. CRAVEN
107 Barrett St., Needham

RALPH QUINN passed away late in July after a prolonged illness. A teacher of history in Boston high schools for over thirty years he had been Head of the History Department at English High School for several years. To his wife, daughters and his brothers and sisters the class extends its most sincere sympathy. May he rest in peace. At the Requiem Mass in St. Theresa's Church on August 2nd the class was represented by RT. REV. ALBERT SHEA and FR. MAURICE DULLEA, S.J. on the altar and by the following members of the class: JOHN FLYNN, JOE DEE, PAUL WATERS, DAN DALEY, JOHN MAHONEY, WALTER DURNAN, JOHN DOYLE, JOHN HENNESSEY, BILL REID, NICK PETROCELLI, MAURICE MURPHY.

Adaptation of Old New England Hubbard Chair, of choice birch wood, black or old pine lacquer finish, gold trim and maple arms, with college seal. Price: $25.00 express collect from Gardner, Mass.

FRANK LIMONT died suddenly in Milton where he was preparing for the funeral of his mother, aged 95, on August 9th. For thirty-five years he had been in various parts of the country with the Equitable Society, Pan-American Life and since 1944 with Berkshire Life in Pittsfield. He received his CLU designation in 1950 and in 1951 he became the general agent of the home office. He had served on the Pittsfield Park Commission, was Pres. of the Berkshire Hills Country Club, had held office as president and lieutenant governor of Kiwanis, was past president of Berkshire County and Massachusetts Life Underwriters Assn. Funeral services were in St. Joseph's Church, Pittsfield. To his wife, sons and daughters the class extends sincere sympathy. May he rest in peace.

JOHN FIEHELLY who had gained fame for interrogating Premier Tojo and preparing the case for the U.S. Government in the war crimes trials died in Washington on Sept. 5th. In 1950 he handled the federal government's prosecution against a Puerto Rican Nationalist who attempted to shoot President Truman. He had been with the Dep't of Justice from 1924 until two years ago when he retired. To his sisters the class extends sincere sympathy. May he rest in peace. At the Requiem Mass in St. Peter's Church, Plymouth, the class was represented by REV. JOHN F. WELCH, and FR. MAURICE DULLEA, S.J. on the altar and also JOHN MAHONEY, ROLAND MAHONEY, CHARLES SHARKEY and FRANK HEANUE.

As we were going to press we received word of the death of TIMOTHY J. (Bunny) O'SULLIVAN on November 3. Our sincere sympathy to his wife and members of the family.

Send a greeting to JOHN MAHONEY at the V. A. Hospital in Jamaica Plain—from what we understand John will be there for a long time.

RT. REV. JOHN CONNELLY is a patient in the Middlesex Sanatorium, Waltham. We have no details. Remember him in your prayers and send a greeting card to cheer him.

NOTE—Your humble scribe is saddened by the foregoing report. Its import is clear to all of us. On the other side of the picture WALTER DURNAN is after the record of JOHN MULCAHY as grandfather with the mostest. And finally, if you haven't come across to the Loyalty Fund get in touch with JACK DOYLE. Don't delay.

'18 MARTIN F. NOLAN
17 So. Normandy Ave., Cambridge

We note with pleasure that the Lions Club of Milton honored our CHARLIE FITZGERALD with a Milton Night citation. Charlie is still an ardent sports follower, particularly where the Red Sox are concerned.

Our prayers and sympathy to the family of FRANK WHELAN who died on September 21.

We note regretfully the passing from the legal scene of EDDIE SULLIVAN whose ill health forced his retirement as Assistant District Attorney, Suffolk County, on the eve of the Brink's trial in which he was to have been the prosecutor.

'20 J. ROBERT BRAWLEY 33 Pomfret St., West Roxbury

The 37th annual reunion of the class was held on October 25th at Alumni Hall. Guests of the Forty Thieves were FATHERS MARTIN HARNEY and JOHN TOBIN of the faculty. On hand for the festivities were MR. and MRS. JOSEPH JOYCE, MR. and MRS. JOSEPH CURRY, PAUL TROY, BOB PYNE, MR. and MRS. ED HIGGINS, JUDGE ELIAS SHAMON, FRANK EARLS, JOHN WELCH, FATHERS JOHN LANE and RUSSELL HALEY, MR. and MRS. JOHN McMORROW, GERALD O'NEIL, JOSEPH C. WHITE, ALBAN McINNIS, ED CROWLEY, MR. and MRS. RAY KILEY, WALTER COLLINS, MR. and MRS. ROBERT BRAWLEY, JOE McLAUGHLIN, JOHN BRENNAN and CHARLIE BRADY of West Newton whom we all remembered as playing a lot of tackle on Charlie Brickley's team in Freshman.

The sympathy of the class is extended to the family of our classmate, EDWARD C. KELLER, who passed away on October 21, and to the family of STEPHEN NOLAN who died on September 7.

DAN LEARY, who retired from Lynn English High is now teaching in a Brothers' High School in New York.

On Friday, October 12, the television brought us on Channel 9, the "Crossroads" program, paying tribute to FATHER EDWARD S. SULLIVAN of All Saints, Roxbury, who served as spiritual advisor to circus folks through the years.

'21 GORDON F. IRONS 9 Emmonsdale Rd., W. Roxbury

The sympathy of the Class is extended to the family of our classmate, ED GALLAGHER, who passed away October 12 at the Veterans' Hospital in Jamaica Plain.

JOE DOYLE, who lived many years in the Middle West following graduation, is now living in Winchester.

JUDGE JOHN SULLIVAN recently made a trip to a convention in California as a representative of the Brighton Savings Bank.

The Class is again doing well in the annual Loyalty Fund Drive. BOB FOY, our Class agent, thanks those who have contributed and hopes that all contributions will be in by Dec. 31.

HENRY McINERNEY is now head master of Brighton High School, his high school Alma Mater.

BERNIE McGRATH is the manager of the new Norwood office of the Beneficial Finance Company.

HUGH O'REGAN'S daughter, Mary T. O'Regan, graduated last June from the Boston College School of Education, cum laude. She was elected to membership in the Alpha and Omega Society. She now is teaching in the Newton public school system.

MORGAN RYAN, JR., received his commission in the navy last August and is at present on the U.S.S. Lexington going to Australia.

FRANCIS J. IRONS, '51, who has been working for the government in Arlington, Virginia, since graduation has been awarded a fellowship by the government and is taking a course leading to a master's degree at Syracuse University.

Rev. James E. Coleran, S.J., '22, former Rector of Weston College, appointed in August as Provincial Superior of the New England Province of the Society of Jesus.

ARTHUR CUSICK, now at Blythe, California, spent a week of his vacation home in Boston. Arthur has recovered from the illness that has plagued him for several years. ARTHUR EVANS, too, is on the mend and has returned to his work at English High. A new edition of my first Maine book, "We Summer in Maine," has been released, this time in a paper-covered edition making possible a less expensive volume that should have increased volume. TED MADDEN'S golf property at Woburn has been purchased by the First National Stores and once more the hero of the 1919 Holy Cross game is on the move. Ted, whose golf properties have always been eagerly sought by industry, thus sees his third golf range turned into a thriving business site. Ted has had a full life, from industrialist, to Judge in Wyoming, to politics in Boston, and always is successful. Marie Therese Mullin, graduate of Manhattanville College and daughter of ARTHUR MULLIN, has announced her engagement to Edward McHugh of East Boston, an alumnus of Holy Cross. Among the recently-wed sons and daughters are JOHN MALLOY, son of MATT, who was married at the Sacred Heart Church, Newton Center in September to Dorothy Jane Newell, of Newton and Martha McGREENERY, daughter of ED, who was married to Lt. Arthur Morell Landy of Ossing, N. Y. My son, Walter, '55, now in the navy is engaged to Rosalie Erickson of Detroit, Michigan. William H. O'Brien, Jr., son of BILL O'BRIEN of our class, made the headlines recently when by fast thinking, he apprehended a gun-carrying bandit in the East Boston Tunnel and aided in his capture.

It is with deep and abiding sorrow that we record the death of FRANCIS L. FORD, our Scriptor and Class Agent, who died at Carney Hospital on Aug. 28 after a brief illness.

During the long years since we left the Heights, Frank was the chronicler of our deeds, the conscience of our class loyalty and the spark that kept glowing our devotion to our Alma Mater.

Now he is gone too soon. With his passing, the Class has lost an inspiring member; the College a devoted son; the teaching profession a scholar, and, all who knew him, a kindly friend.

We are constrained, by his own injunction, from heaping praise upon tribute in his memory. In his Senior year, writing for the STYLUS he said in a poem:

"When I am gone . . .
Sing not the futile notes of eulogy
My ears are numb except to whisps of prayer"

So we say, in the words of St. Ambrose, "We have loved him during life; let us not abandon him until we have conducted him by our prayers into the House of the Lord".

To his devoted wife, Marie Fasano Ford, the Class extends its condolences.

May his soul, and the souls of all the faithful departed, rest in peace.

Until the Class of 1923 takes formal action, JOE CRANE has agreed to act as Class Agent, and MYLES T. McSWEENEY at Scriptor.

With deep regret we report the passing of Classmate FRANK HENNESSEY who, after an illness of several months, succumbed on July 22. The funeral was held from his late home at 27 Churchill Road, West Roxbury on July 25 followed by a Solemn High Mass at St. Theresa's Church. Many classmates were in attendance. Frank is survived by his widow, Catherine Luppold Hennessey and their two children—Dr. Francis B. a resident in orthopedics at Lakeville State Hospital, Middleboro and Marie Therese.

Frank, upon his graduation from the Heights, did graduate work at Columbia University and Boston Teachers College receiving his Master's Degree from the latter. In addition to his teaching at Boston Latin he taught evenings at Newman Preparatory School.

Sincere condolences are extended the bereaved family.

Congratulations to FR. ERNEST MACDONALD on his promotion effective September 21 from Assistant at St. Peter's Parish, Dorchester to Parish Priest of Our Lady of Lourdes' Parish, North Carver.

Fr. Ernest's promotion was effected by the promotion of FR. JOE SHEA who was transferred from Parish Priest at North Carver to Parish Priest of Sacred Heart Parish, Middleboro.

DR. JIM CONWAY was singularly honored on the television show which originated in the Granby Street Diocesan Television Studio on September 23 when he was introduced to the TV audience over WNAC-TV which telecast the Archbishop officiating at the first christening service ever televised. Dr. Jim was the obstetrician in the birth of the principal to Mr. and Mrs. Francis X. Morrissey. Mr. Morrissey is secretary to U. S. Senator John Kennedy.

The latest address for our distinguished classmate—DOM PLACID CORMEY, O.S.B., Mount Savior Priory, Elmira, N.Y.

Class Agent GENE GIROUX reminds us that at press time but 57% of the class who responded so well to the 1955 Alumni Fund Drive have sent in their 1956 contributions. Not only would Gene be very much pleased to hear from the remaining 43% — and he sincerely expects to do so — but also from those who did not participate in 1955 but who exhibited their cooperation in prior years.

'26 WILLIAM J. CUNNINGHAM 40 Tennyson St., West Roxbury

It is with great regret that we must report deaths of people near to us. Early in August, FR. WALTER BRUCE McCRACKEN died of a heart attack, while vacationing in Falmouth. He had been Director of the Propagation of the Faith, founded the Jim Hennessey Mission Club, served as curate at St. Angela's in Mattapan, and had only recently been an assistant at St. Mary's in Waltham. We'll miss his wit and his smile.

Late in October, BOB DALEY lost his oldest boy, young Bob, a member of the Class of 1959 at B.C. We're getting old enough to expect death among ourselves, but it's rugged when our young people are taken. Our deepest sympathy to Bob and Kay and to the youngster's brothers. Young Bob was a fine hockey and football player, too. Then, late in August, CONNIE MOYNIHAN lost his dad, at the age of 85, and ARTHUR MURRAY lost his well-known father in October. Pat Murray was West Roxbury's finest citizen. May their souls rest in peace.

FR. JOE MANTLE, pastor of St. John's Church in West Roxbury, was laid up at St. E's in Brighton for a session this September. He's out now, I hear, and in good shape. Saw DR. BOB O'DOHERTY at the Villanova game which reminds me that I didn't report to you on Bob's extensive European trip, late this summer; six weeks of touring gave him time to see what should have been seen. Bob got a boot out of the fact that the pilot on the plane across was a former patient of his.

DR. EDDIE FLYNN, outstanding bone man, is the current President of the Alumni Sodality of Boston, a fine honor. Since our last report, TOM COAKLEY has been made a principal in the Boston School system. I see Tom regularly, at a bowling league, and he's a real hot-shot. JOE HUGHES joined our league this fall, too. He's a sub-master in Boston, and lives in Roslindale. The Alumni Association's clip bureau reports that ATT'Y. JOHN A. MURRAY (Aiken, ain't it?) has been named to head the City of Boston's demolition and restoration program. He was formerly attorney for the Federal Public Housing Administration.

At ART MURRAY'S dad's wake, I again met Art's son, who is a student at Catholic University, who told me that FR. ED. (GOOSE) DOWD is vice-rector there and acts as the University's chaplain. JOE HARRINGTON'S column, now in the Globe, mentioned a story in October involving none other than GEORGE O'BRIEN, who is in charge of the Lowell office of the State Department of Education's rehabilitation work. FR. JEREMIAH FOLEY, (Big Jerry), has become the pastor of St. John the Baptist Church in Essex, after some years at St. Joseph's in Somerville, and St. Edward's in Brockton. FR. DANIEL DUNN is now serving as Administrator of Holy Rosary parish in Winthrop, after over two years as a curate at Immaculate Conception in the same town.

Wish more of you fellows were as faithful as CHARLIE CARROLL. He tells me he helped HEN BARRY to celebrate his "39th" birthday recently. Charlie is Chairman of the Board of the Long Island National Bank at Hicksville, Long Island. Had his nephew Walter with him for the summer; a Holy Cross grad, he's a third year student at B.C. Law School.

JOHNNIE DOOLEY has dusted off the golf clubs, so think a bit before you challenge him. He won the President's Cup, for the championship of Scituate Country Club this fall, hitting 'em consistently in the 70's; I got the dope from one of the fellows he beat in the championships.

I've joined several of the old boys from the class, with a second boy now at the Heights' Business School; son Paul is a Freshman and young Bill is a Senior. And, to make matters worse, (or is it?) Rose and I are grandparents for the second time; another grandson to daughter Patricia Harrison, of Newport, Rhode Island, early this summer. Son John is a Freshman at B. C. High. And that's the —30— mark for this issue.

P.S. Don't forget the weekend reunion planned for the Hotel Wentworth next June—we have the reservations already made, and don't forget to dip down for the Alumni Fund before the end of this year.

VERY REV. JOHN W. COMBER was chosen last August Superior General of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, popularly known as the Maryknoll missionaries. Our former classmate spent two years in a Japanese concentration camp before being repatriated.

FREDERICK A. McDERMOTT of Needham was appointed last July Dean of Suffolk Law School. Thumbnail sketch . . . B.C. '27 . . . Harvard Law '30 . . . Professor of Law at Boston College Law School 1936-1942 . . . formerly with U. S. Price Administration . . . four children.

BERNARD FIEKERS, S.J., Professor of Chemistry at Holy Cross, sends out a bright and gossipy news letter to alumni and undergraduates of the department. Our Bernie, one of the guiding lights of the New England Association of Chemistry Teachers, recently lectured at the Science Workshop at Alma Mater. He has under his signature more than 150 publications in the fields of science and education.

The University of Toronto last June conferred a Doctorate in Medieval Studies on REV. J. JOSEPH RYAN.

REV. DANIEL J. LINEHAN, S.J. will be featured speaker at the first of a series of lectures sponsored by the College's Gold Key Society. Fr. Dan will speak on "Operation Deepfreeze".

DR. WILLIAM A. FITZGERALD, professor at the Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tennessee, left last June for Formosa where he is librarian with the International Cooperation Administration.

Now hear this . . . BILL OHRENBARGER became the father of a beautiful baby girl born August 9. Bill Jr. became a pappy last spring. So now our Bill is a grandfather. So Mrs. Bill Ohrenberger, Senior that is, became a grandmother before she became a mother. And her little girl, Mary Margaret, usually called Aunt Molly, is currently having trouble keeping her nephew in line just because he's four months older than she. Now, Bill's mother, the original Mrs. Ohrenberger, still hale and hearty, God bless her, is . . . well, you see how complicated these things can get. It should happen to everybody.

JOE HOPKINSON, Head of the Latin Department at Boston Latin School, married the former Alice Costello on August 18. Joe and his new bride will reside in Dorchester.

Congratulations to CHARLIE "Steve" BRIDEY on his election to the presidency of the Varsity Club. Charlie spent the summer beating the bushes for the Red Sox.

THOMAS P. GALLAGHER, member of the New England Interstate Water Pollution Control commission, was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Seventh District.

We regret to announce the death of our former classmate, FRANK KELLEY, who passed away last summer. Prayers for the peace of his soul are requested of all the brothers.

JACK BUCKLEY has been named Area Captain for the Hyde Park churches of the Suffolk South Deanery of the Holy Name Society.

Keep in mind the December meeting of the class at which time plans will be discussed for the observing of the thirtieth anniversary of our graduation.

'28 LLOYD L. DOYLE
46 Hecla Street, Dorchester

Thanks a million for the numerous inquiries, telephone calls, cards of recovery and offers of service in my recent hospitalization and convalescence. It is very gratifying and consoling to know that many of my classmates did not forget me. My wife and I appreciated it very much. I am now back at work, on crutches, with my leg still in a cast. My doctor a Harvard man—"Class of '28"—says I am coming along fine.

Many priests of the class will be celebrating their 25th anniversary of ordination this coming year. Special effort should be made to have a class representation present at the occasions.

TOM GEMELLI continues to be very active with the Junior Order of Foresters. MAURICE DOWNEY was recently elected president of the National Vocational and Guidance Association of Teachers. He is now a director of the Boston School Association.

The sympathy of the class is extended to DR. JOHN ANDOSCA on the death of his father; ED BECHERER on the death of his mother; TOM GEMELLI on the death of his brother.

ED O'BRIEN'S (Hyde Park) son is quite an athlete at Holy Cross—Varsity baseball catcher and a very potential football player.

FATHER BERNARD H. UNSWORTH was recently made pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Woods Hole. Drop in and say hello when going through the Cape.

FATHER FRANCIS CONLON, a member of the Oblate Fathers Mission Band, recently visited his parents in Lynn.

Names in the news: COMMISSIONER PAT TOMPKINS recently reported that the "Black Market" baby adoption racket has been virtually eliminated in Mass.; COMMISSIONER OF INSTITUTIONS JOHN MCGILVRAY recently publicized the wonderful work being done at the Alcoholic Clinic at the Long Island Hospital.

DAN DRISCOLL is still celebrating his 25th anniversary, but this time—the establishment of his business, Driscoll, Pearce Insurance Co., 18 Oliver St., Boston. Plug.

Several of the boys held a reunion this summer up in New Hampshire at the estate of DOCTOR JOSEPH MCCARTHY. JIM DUFFY—Dan and Joe. Watch out, Doctor, you may have some new visitors next summer.

NORMIE STEELE'S daughter, Barbara, was married on Saturday, October 20, at a Nuptial Mass at St. Angela's Church, Mattapan to John Reilly. John is an accountant in the Red Sox front office. Your world series ticket demands will be taken care of next year. They are honeymooning in Florida.

HARRY BALLEM was on from San Francisco to visit friends in Boston and vicinity this past summer.

Members of the class were saddened at the news of FATHER JOE DONOGHUE'S sudden death on his return trip from a West Indies vacation. Classmates REV. JOSEPH SMITH and REV. JOHN KENNEY officiated at the Mass.

'29 GEORGE P. DONALDSON
158 Milton St., Milton

FATHER JACK CUNNINGHAM still fund raising for the Church in India, recently addressed the Cathedral Holy Name Society. FATHER JOHN FRAWLEY said his talk and slides were excellent. We were all pulling for JACK QUINN'S Braves to even the pennant. A great try Jack—better luck next year. Our sympathy to HENRY KEENAN, on from California in August for his mother's funeral. GENE MCCARTHY recently made "Master" in the Boston Schools and his son Gene, BC '56 commencement speaker, is at Yale University Medical School. Speaking of doctors-to-be, VIN SULLIVAN'S Vin, BC '57, is already accepted for Georgetown Medical. BILL O'LEARY was principal of the Central Summer Review High School and FRANK O'BRIEN in quick order moved from Roslindale High to head commercial branches at South Boston and on to be Vocational Guidance Counselor at Technical High, where BOB BUCK'S "Bobby" is a senior. The Hyde Park High faculty honored Mr. & Mrs. "KEWPIE" KILROY at a dinner a few days ago.—We hear she is very beautiful.

WILBUR BELL and son Tim with season tickets near the 50-yard line will be looking for other 29ers and sons. Tim is a classmate of JOE TONDORF'S. PAUL at Immaculate Conception School East Weymouth—BILL serving on the Financial Advisory Board and HERB GORDON on the Board of Health, are keeping the town of Hull in good shape. GENE McLAUGHLIN now heads the Math Department at Hyde Park High. NICK TEDESCO is doing his part to keep kids going straight in the Newton Recreational Department. FR. FRANK McDONNELL is doing a tremendous job with the Labor Schools at Framingham, Lowell, Lynn and in the old B.C. High. BILL LaFAY, still Consul for Venezuela, is working hard at his law and with good reasons—Mike studying with the Carmelites in Canada, Louise at Boston School of Occupational Therapy, Anne at Regis College and Joan at Newton High applying for BC '61. Bill reports recent contact with BILL "ROSY" RYAN, Counsel for the M.T.A.

LEO "IKE" SHEA reports a very good summer at "Sea Pines", his hostelry at West Yarmouth, with weekly shows by the Entertaining Sheas. Kevin, a magician, mother and daughter with violin and piano, and "Ike" as raconteur. All are invited down. Leo Jr. is on the Freshman football team at Villanova and reports that one of PHIL STUART'S daughters is at Rosemont College nearby. TIM NYHAN was in the news recently—how are Psych and Ethics Tim? JOHN MUNGOVAN'S son Chris shows great promise in two unrelated fields—baseball and violin. John had the whole family at the Emmanuel Square Dance October 26th. John teaches in the Sociology Department at the Heights in addition to his main job as Director of the Division of the Blind. BOB BUCK also teaches at B.C. (Intown evenings).

FR. JOHN FRAWLEY would invite you all down to see the redecorated Cathedral but he is afraid that you would think he was looking for a contribution to the Cathedral Fund.—Go anyway—you will be interested. Met FRANK CADIGAN on his way to a Fourth Degree Knights meeting. FRANK O'HARA is now on the Lowell Teachers College faculty—philosophy, isn't it Frank? DICK SULLIVAN still teaching at B.C. Law School while his neighbor JOHN MAHONEY is busily practicing law on State St., Boston.

Don't forget the Alumni Fund—make '29 the 100% class. Send in whatever you can before December 31st.

'30 JOHN F. DWYER
45 Belvoir Road, Milton

A representative group of classmates gathered on short notice at Tallino's Restaurant, Chestnut Hill, on Tuesday, September 11 to give an appropriate send-off to REV. JOHN W. RYAN, S.J., upon his departure to assume his duties as Professor of English at Fairfield University, Fairfield, Conn. Present were FATHER RYAN, FATHER ROCK, S.J., JOHN CONNELLY, PAT CREEDON, TED HOPPE, JOE WHITEHEAD, FRANK TALLINO, FRANK McNULTY, DR. FRANK HIGGINS, JOHN HURLEY, CHARLIE MURPHY, HAROLD KELLY, JOE KELLY, FATHER ED GALVIN, JIM LANGAN, BILL SYRAN, TOM KELLY and JOHN DWYER.

Class agent JOHN W. HAVERTY has requested that we remind those who have overlooked it to forward their 1956 Alumni Fund gift to the Alumni Association. Whatever you give will be appreciated.

ATTY. THOMAS W. LAWLESS was appointed as one of the trustees in the reorganization of the Boston Post. Tom has been in the field of business reorganization for the past 20 years.

MR. and Mrs. JOHN GRANDFIELD journeyed to Sainte Anne's Shrine at Quebec on a vacation tour.

Among the active workers in the Jesuit Shadowbrook Fund Drive are JOHN HAVERTY, JIM REAGAN, JOHN MCINTYRE and your correspondent.

The Class of 1930 held a minor reunion at the Shadowbrook Fund Drive meeting at Holy Cross on September 30th followed by the Crusader-Dayton grid tilt. Present were REV. WILLIAM J. DWYER, S.J., REV. BRENDAN McNALLY, S.J., REV. JOSEPH MURPHY, S.J., MR. and Mrs. JOHN HAVERTY, MR. and Mrs. THOMAS KELLEY and MR. and Mrs. JOHN DWYER.

Welcome home to FATHER WILLIAM J. DWYER, S.J., who will be stationed for several weeks at Campion Hall, North Andover, Mass., where he will be happy to see any of his classmates. FATHER DWYER has spent ten years in Port Antonio, Jamaica, B.W.I. As pastor he has erected the new mission church of St. Anthony and Our Lady Star of the Sea. He has founded two schools in Port Antonio and one in Avocat.

Judge and Mrs. JOHN CONNELLY journeyed to Brunswick, N. J., to see John, Jr., make consistent gains running from the fullback spot in the Rutgers game. JOHN B. GILLOOLY covered the Rutgers game for the Boston Daily Record.

Congratulations to DR. ALFRED V. MAHONEY who has been elected president of the Quincy City Hospital. Under Dr. Mahoney's direction a new $2,000,000 wing will be constructed and the Nurses Training Program will be expanded.

Members of the 25th Anniversary Class of 1932 and their wives pictured at the October 12th dance held at St. Sebastian's Country Day School, Newton, left to right, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Connor; Mr. and Mrs. John C. Roddy, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Patten, Dr. and Mrs. Frank M. O'Connor, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel J. Cotter.

First comes a dinner dance on November 10th at St. Sebastian's. The committee is headed by AL FITZGERALD, PAUL LAJOIE and TED CASS. A Stag Dinner follows during Christmas week; the committee is composed of JACK CHISHOLM, DICK GORMAN and JOHN WALSH. The Communion Breakfast for our families in May will be organized once more by MSGR. FLANIGAN, and FR. MEEHAN, NORTON and DONLAN. Everyone is invited to attach himself to one of these committees and to pitch in toward completing the details.

Our president, DICK FITZPATRICK, has been honored with the appointment of Chairman of Alumni Day. He will, of course, expect the cooperation of his classmates.

JOE MCCOOK achieves added distinction as an educator with his appointment to the post of Superintendent of Schools of Springfield, Mass.

JACK HARKINS, his wife and their child have moved to Darien, Conn. He is Government sales manager with the Bulkley Dunton Co., paper, and is a member of the Board of Governors of the New York Club.

The sympathy of the class is extended to JOHN WALSH and LARRY HEALY on the loss of their mothers. We are pleased to learn that JIM COVENEY is recovering from a serious accident.

CHARLIE NOLAN has been appointed First Secretary and Commercial Attache of the U.S. embassy at Buenos Aires, Argentina.

TOM HORNE, principal of the Somerville Evening Schools has been awarded the degree of Doctor of Arts by Staley College.

BILL COLEMAN will again direct the March of Dimes campaign for the Suffolk County Chapter, Infantile Paralysis National Foundation.

The 25th anniversary celebration of the greatest class in the history of Boston College opened on a rollicking note when the lads of '32 with their lassies gathered at St. Sebastian's Country Day School on Friday night, October 12, for a dinner-dance and assorted high jinks.

An assemblage of over 100 people turned out for the social which started off the year's observance in gala fashion. They came from near, they came from far; they came by taxi and by car, and all agreed that it was worth the while.

Comfortable atmosphere, good music, excellent food, real geniality were the elements combining to make the occasion one long to be remembered by those in attendance. Informality was the keynote, and reunions were a dime a dozen.

The soiree set a pleasant pace which augurs well for the ambitious program of coming events on the class's "25th" agenda. Big Chief ED GALLAGHER has some real pow-wows lined up for all the braves, squaws, and offspring of 1932. So let's go-hop aboard the Anniversary Special and enjoy all the coming events!

The committee for the dinner-dance headed by co-chairmen ED HURLEY and GERRY KELLY, included GEORGE V. BURKE, ALLAN C. BYRNE, LOUIS DeANGELIS, EDDIE DENSMORE, PHIL DIEHL, REV. FRANK FINNEGAN, who did such a masterful job introducing class members and their wives on the night of the dance, BILL GALVIN, GERRY HERN, GERRY MOORE, RALPH NOONAN, ALBERT O'SHEA, JOHN REILLY, DR. TONY VANARIA, and DR. EDDIE YURKANIS. Among the balding Eagles who graced the occasion with their charming spouses were FELIX ALBANO, JOE ANDREWS, BOB BARRY, GEORGE BURKE, CHARLIE CALLERY, BILL CANNON, TOM CAREY, JOHN COLLINS, TOM CONNELLY, JOHN CONNOR, DAN COTTER, JOHN CRONIN, PETE DAVIS, LOUIS DeANGELIS, EDDIE DENSMORE, PHIL DIEHL, HARRY DOWNES, BILL DOWNEY, ED DRISCOLL, BILL EGAN, FRANK FINN, ED GALLAGHER, BILL GALVIN, JIM HEGGIE, JOE HERNON, ED HURLEY, GERRY KELLEY, AL KIBURIS, ART KING, TED KOSCIOLEK, DAN LARKIN, JOE LYNCH, JOHN MOAKLEY, JOHN McMANUS, GEORGE MORRIS, RALPH NOONAN, FRANK O'CONNOR, ALBIE O'SHEA, JACK PATTEN, ED REARDON, JOHN RUDDY, EMIL ROMANOWSKY, JOHN ROWLINSON, ANDY SPOGNARDI, and TONY VANARIA.

Among the clergy who honored us with their presence were our genial General Treasurer MONSIGNOR JIM COTTER, FR. FRANK FINNEGAN, to whom the committee is deeply indebted for his officiating at St. Sebastian's, FR. FRED MINIGAN, and FR. ED NOWLAN, S.J.

Tid-bits gleaned at the dance: EDDIE DENSMORE is a U. S. Revenue Agent Exalted Ruler of the Quincy Lodge of Elks, and has a son with ambitions to be the shortstop on next spring's Eagle nine; ART KING is in charge of Public Affairs and News Editor at Station WEEI; JACK MOAKLEY is a radio and television engineer with WNAC; ED DRISCOLL is a utility executive in New Hampshire; BILL DOWNEY is the librarian for Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. in New York City; FRANK SULLIVAN has moved from Washington, D.C. to Los Angeles; JOE KELLEY, that thannwhomer among fullbacks, has a son playing on this year's freshman squad; DAN LARKIN is with the Boston Globe; TOM CAREY is practicing law in Worcester; DR. CHARLIE CALLERY and TONY VANARIA are dentists in Canton and Waltham respectively; GEORGE COLBERT is teaching in the Harwich School System; EDDIE STEWART is principal of Scituate High School; C. GLYNN FRASER is an executive with the Menninger Foundation in Topeka, Kansas, and AL O'SHEA is an examiner for the Small Business Administration.

MONSIGNOR DAN McCOLGAN is confined to the Carney Hospital but we are happy to report that he is coming along in good shape.

Mrs. BOB BARRY presented Bob with their sixth child during the summer. Congratulations to the JAMES F. BYRNES' who celebrated their silver wedding anniversary in July.

The next jubilee events are centered around the Cross game weekend and should prove very interesting attractions. The night before the Cross game, Nov. 30, HARRY DOWNES and JIM HEGGIE are co-chairmen for the Athletes Reunion and Dinner at Alumni Hall. Serving with them are DR. CHARLES CALLERY, GEORGE COLBERT, PETER DAVIS, JOHN DiVENUTI, JOE KELLEY, DAN LARKIN, FRED MEIER, EMIL ROMANOWSKY, DR. ANDY SPOGNARDI, and EDDIE STEWART.

On the evening of the game itself, Dec. 1, JACK PATTEN and DR. FRANK O'CONNOR head the committee planning a gala Cocktail Party at radio station WORL's building, 705 Beacon St., right after the victory over Holy Cross. This should be a natural setting and a convenient one for a festive convale following the game. JOE ANDREWS, EDDIE DRISCOLL, JOE HERON, AL KIBURIS, ART KING, DR. JOE LYNCH, DR. CHARLIE McLAUGHLIN, DR. JOHN McMANUS, JACK MOAKLEY, PETE QUINN, and FRANK SULLIVAN are doing their bit to make the party a huge success.

During the Christmas holidays, FRANK CURTIN and JOHN COLLINS are making plans for a Stag Reunion, December 28, at Alumni Hall. Assisting them are: BOB BARRY, JOHN CALLAHAN, TOM CAREY, JACK CRONIN, BILL DOWNEY, BEN DROHAN, FRANK FINN, WALTER KELLY, JOHN McDONALD, FR. FRED MINIGAN, FR. ED NOWLAN.

More complete coverage will be given in the next issue of the Alumni News regarding the spring events. However all of you should put a big red circle around the date of May 5, 1957 when the Family Communion Breakfast will be held at the Heights.

As part of the Anniversary Celebration, a souvenir booklet is being prepared under the direction of JOHN ROWLINSON, DAN COTTER, and BILL CANNON. There will be pictures galore to make the edition a cherished memento of our jubilee year.

The sincere sympathy of the class is extended on his recent death to the wife and family of JOE FRENO. Prayers of the class are asked for Joe, and for the father of DR. GEORGE MORRIS; the wife of JACK MCCARTHY, and the brother of ED HERLIHY (Walter F., '35), who passed away recently. BILL GRIFFIN was awarded an M.B.A. from New York University this past summer.

'33 JAMES M. CONNOLLY

10 Pine Street, Belmont

JOHN HANRAHAN has been selected as an Exchange teacher between Holland and the United States under the Fulbright Exchange Act. He has been assigned to Tilburg. John is living there with his wife and their three daughters—Barbara, Marjorie, and Judith. They sailed on the Holland-American Line's "Westerdam".

This is the second time that John has been honored with this selection. I had a letter from him, and Dot and he and the children are well settled in a pleasant inn and enjoying it very much.

Through the Alumni Office, Dot's brother in Seattle was able to locate Dot and called her on her birthday.

DR. OWEN C. MULLANEY has been appointed Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the Boston University Medical School. Owen is also on the faculty of Tufts Medical School, and is a staff member at St. Margaret's in Dorchester.

DR. FRANK WALSH is on the staff at St. Margaret's, Carney and Harley Hospitals. The Walshs have six children.

Your correspondent spoke at the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis at the national convention held in Los Angeles in September.

BILL RYAN has been appointed to the new position of secretary of the First National Stores, Inc. He was formerly associated with the Boston law firm of Lyne, Woodworth & Evarts. Good luck, Bill.

Class Agent, CHICK ARTESANI of Brighton, urges all who have not done so to submit their annual alumni fund contribution immediately. At the present time we are considerably behind recent years in amount contributed and in the number of participants. Incidentally, Chick was recently renominated for the eighth term in the Massachusetts Legislature.

JOE KEEFE is Claims Manager for the Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company. Joe has two children and recently bought a home in Arlington.

JOE MORAN was married during the summer to Miss Mary Frances Jesus of Dracut. Joe is a sales representative for the Lee Patten Seed Company, Jersey City, New Jersey.

FATHER JOHN HUGHES, S.J., was recently honored at a reception in his native Charlestown. Father Hughes, who is Dean of Men at Sophia University in Tokyo, was home on visit after nine years in Japan.

MARTIN MELIA of Lawrence was recently elected teacher of social studies at the Central Junior High School in that city.

HERB KENNY is now a feature writer with the Boston Globe. Herb had been a member of the editorial staff of the Post for many years. During the summer he was awarded a poetry fellowship for study at the Middlebury College Bread Loaf Writers' Conference. Herb has three children and resides in Manchester.

GEORGE McCUE has a new address—5 Edgewood Drive, Hicksville, L. I., New York. George does considerable traveling in the East as regional operations manager for W. T. Grant Co.

'35 EDWARD J. O'BRIEN

64 Cedar St., Wollaston

The Class extends its sincere sympathy to the family of WALTER F. HERLIHY, who died suddenly at his home in Forest Hills, New York, on October 5.

REV. PAUL G. DUGAN, recently ordained a priest in the Diocese of Worcester, at ceremonies held in St. Paul's Cathedral, has been assigned as curate at St. Louis Parish, Webster.

Congratulations to DR. PAUL HURLEY, on the addition of a baby girl to his fine family, which now stands at four girls and three boys.

AL MORRIS is doing yeoman work as Class Agent for the Alumni Fund drive, and will appreciate any assistance you can give him in helping put us over the top.

JOHN DALY, renowned TV newscaster and ABC Vice President in charge of news and public affairs, remains loyal to his Boston ties. Quote: "I feel I owe a lot to Boston. The speech there is wonderful. The tones are so proper."

After several years in New York, BOB MacDONALD is back in Boston and is with The Sackel Co., Inc., Advertising Agency, at 8 Newbury St., Boston.

DR. JAMES A. McLAUGHLIN has been promoted to the rank of Captain in the Navy Medical Corps. He is stationed at the Naval Hospital in Newport, R. I., as assistant chief of Medicine and Physician for the Naval War College. When he was presented his Captain's Insignia (with shoulder boards previously blessed and presented as a gift of the hospital chaplain, Commander (Chaplain) Bernard Finnegan, S.J.), his wife and eight children were on hand. The children are: Justin, Jonathan, Jayna, Leonard, Diedre, Regis, Karen, Maiva.

The Class Board of Governors has selected DAN HOLLAND to serve as our President, succeeding the writer. I would like to lapse into the first person singular just this once, to thank most sincerely all those who cooperated so thoroughly with me during the past two years, and who were responsible for making the events we held so completely successful. I am confident that the same enthusiastic assistance will be rendered to Dan, whose ability to organize is already a fait accompli. Let's help move 1935 even higher on the list of outstanding classes!

The GEORGE MAHONEYS and daughter, Anne Ellen, are now living at 91 Moraine Street, Jamaica Plain.

BOB O'HAYRE advises that the insurance policies taken out by some members of our class at graduation have matured. Most of the class members with such policies have turned their checks over to the treasurer of the College to be invested for their 25th Anniversary gift. Those who do not have insurance policies should start thinking ahead now so that they will also have a substantial contribution to make towards the 25th Anniversary class gift.

'37 ALBERT J. SULLIVAN 6 Powder House Ter., Medford

FRED GORGONE has been upped to a "supervising principalship" (so help me, that's what they call it) of the Warren Grammar School in Wellesley. Fred did his finishing work at B.U. and Harvard, from the latter receiving his "certificate of advanced study" (14 rungs on the ladder) in '53.

Also going higher, BILL RICHMOND received an M.Ed. from Harvard this past summer.

BILL SULLIVAN is now an assistant to the president of Metropolitan Coal Co.

LARRY PHALAN did yeoman service (I know: I was one of his elect) for the Shadowbrook Campaign in Medford. He also hit the Harvard Business Review this past summer with an economics article that he assured me was definitive but which, frankly, was over my head.

TEDDY GLYNN was the campaign manager for the successful gubernatorial candidate, Foster Furcolo.

BEN HINES, who previously shouldered this column, but neatly foisted it on me in one of my weaker moments, writes: Dear A.J.—Just in case you're in the process of again fashioning your pillar of prose for the next issue of the Alumni News, here's a "tea-neeny" one about GEORGE LYNCH, salesman par excellence for the Tetley Tea Company. That's it. He's selling tea for Tetley, and is a big success at it.

PETER G. VERACKA, Industrial Representative and a veteran with the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad Company, spent a nice summer's vacation (of two weeks, of course) at Eastham down Cape-way, with his family of lovely wife and three tots.

Point is, Peter hasn't had this new titled-post for very long—matter of a few months. But he's still the same lovable youthful Pete, even without a camera. (p.s.s. on that crack—he's a former news photog.)

Then there's BEN HINES, who once struggled with your column, or rather the space you now occupy quarterly with rich bon mots. Anyway, this Hines is now in the Public Relations Office of the New Haven Railroad, knocking out news releases and attempting to answer complaints.

It has been nice, back here in Boston after a long absence which took me'n my typewriter from Portland, Me., to Los Angeles.

Good Luck, Al, and hope you've had a lovely summer with your family.

Cordially,
Ben Hines.

'38 THOMAS F. TRUE, JR. 37 Pomfret St., West Roxbury

Lt. Col. "JUNIE" KING, now assigned to Headquarters, Continental Army Command at Fort Monroe, Virginia received his Business Administration degree from the University of Alabama.

Lt. Col. TOM COSGROVE was one of a group of Reserve officers conducting a special 15-day set of courses at the New Bedford Army Reserve Training Center in Fort Rodman, Mass. for 300 Reserve officers from the First Army area. He was director of the Adjutant General's phase of the course. Tom is principal of the Belmont School in Malden, where he, his wife Muriel and their two children, Christine and Tom, Jr., live. Always active in civic affairs, FRANK HUNT has been named a group chairman of the financial division of the 1957 Red Feather campaign. Frank is New England public information officer of the Veterans Administration. PAUL SNELL was recently awarded a ten-year service pin by the district manager of the Atlantic Refining Company. He is presently in charge of Atlantic's dealer training program for New England. PAUL SCHULTZ now covers the State House for the Worcester Gazette.

Although it is over five years away, it is time to start thinking about our 25th anniversary celebration which will coincide with the 100th anniversary of the granting of a charter to the College. This occasion will be commemorated with much ceremony at that time and our class' contribution should be in keeping with the marking of that great milestone—100 years—since the founding of Boston College. With this in mind JIM O'HARE has been appointed to start the ball rolling. He is now lining up a group to formulate plans and exchange ideas as to how this can best be accomplished. Anyone who would like to help out can get in touch with Jim at Belmont 5-4738 or me at the above address.

BOB CALLAHAN would like to remind several of last year's contributors to the Alumni Fund that, although our class' total to date is over $1,000.00 they haven't been heard from yet.

We spotted DR. "SPARKY" ADAMS between the halves of the Rutgers game but couldn't locate him at the reception in the Roger Smith Hotel after the game.

'39 THOMAS F. TURNAN 151 So. Angell St., Providence, R. I.

PREXY PAUL NEEDHAM'S platform for the 1956-57 season should be hitting the Post Office soon and we shall be another twelve months closer to being the Anniversary Class. The customary dearth of detail still dogs us—only a few notes dribbled through since Alumni Day.

FATHER JAMES F. McNIFF, Group Superior of all Maryknollers in the diocese of Cochobamba, Santa Cruz and LaPaz, Bolivia, represented them at the General Chapter held in August when the new Superior General was elected. FATHER JOHN DONOVAN'S Pre-Cana Conference activities in Blessed Sacrament Parish, Walpole, were shown as part of a picture story in the September 15 Boston Pilot.

In the political arena, DAVE TOOMEY, former Bay State Commander of the V. F. W. filed nomination papers for Democratic nomination for Bristol County Commissioner. In the non-elective area, JOHN J. FLYNN, III, was named to succeed his father as Waltham City Solicitor.

LT. COL. RAY COYNE, USMC, is Legal Officer at the San Diego Recruit Depot and PETE KERR of the New England Tel. & Tel. legal department has been admitted to the Mass. Bar.

JOHN J. RODDY, legislative counsel for the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, voiced that august body's views on overtime pay legislation before the State Senate Ways and Means Committee. And that completes Thirty-Nine's forensic kinetics except to say that LARRY FITZGERALD was married on September 1 to Ann Corboy of Mattapan. They are living in Wakefield.

PAUL NAGLE announces the third boy and sixth youngster in his house. Paul is married to the former Kathleen Clifford, sister of FATHER DON CLIFFORD and the Nagles live in New Haven, Conn. ED ROONEY has been named to the English Department of Northampton, Mass. High School. HAL LANGLOIS was a member of a TV panel discussion on correctional administration at the Annual Meeting of the American Correction Association in Los Angeles. Hal is Assistant Director of Social Welfare for Correctional Services for R. I. The Class offers its sympathy to ED HALL on the death of his wife. Irene was a welcome supporter of Thirty-Nine's activities and we shall miss her.

LARRY FITZGERALD shows up twice in these dispatches, the second time as Class Agent. Larry emphasizes that contributions to the Alumni Fund are lagging and dragging going into the home stretch. More Thirty-Nine contributors now may help us maintain last year's position, even if we can't improve it. And NOW is the time, with Christmas coming up.

On the lighter side, JOHN MAHONEY won a 15 foot outboard runabout at the Marshfield Fair. So now we have a sea-going squire in the Hospitalization Insurance field. John is an executive with Blue Cross. Who last saw FRANK ZEIMETZ? Your suppliant secretary will be happy to receive this report and/or any data on the current activities of other Thirty-Niners. We don't recall seeing, in the foregoing pages, the roster of the Boston College Club of Brattle St., but we understand that JOE MCCARTHY is 50% of the membership. This was disclosed in a companion piece to Joe's Yankee Stadium story in the October issue of Holiday Magazine.

'40 WILLIAM F. JOY 44 Lincoln St., Melrose

Congratulations to MICHAEL SULLIVAN who recently received his M.Litt. from the University of Pittsburgh.

ATTY. ANGELO FIUMARA, administrative assistant to John Volpe, former Public Works Commissioner of Massachusetts, now U.S. Commissioner of Roads, has moved from Medford to Drury Lane, Danvers. Angelo was president at the White House when Mr. Volpe took his oath of office before President Eisenhower. Angelo is married and has a daughter, Grace.

The J. HARRY LYNCHS are receiving congratulations on the birth of their fifth child, Paul.

The sincere sympathy of the Class is extended to ED KENNY on the death of his mother.

TOM DONOVAN is becoming widely known as an expert on bankruptcy and credit law. Tom practices in Boston at State St., and lives in Brookline. F.B.I.

man ERNIE SCHWOTZER's name and picture were in the news frequently when he appeared as a witness in the Brink's case. Ernie carried himself with dignity, poise and intelligence and reflected credit on his school and classmates as he always did on the football field when he captained the team in our senior year. Ernie is married to the former PATRICIA MCCARTHY and lives in Natick. They have two boys and a girl.

Your correspondent and MRS. JOY welcomed their fifth son and seventh child, Thomas More Joy on June 28. As usual, classmate par excellence, DR. TOM DUNCAN assisted. To add to the 1940 atmosphere DAVE and Jean LUCEY were god-parents.

The Alumni Fund year is coming to a close. We are running behind our previous years good showing. Remember, our record is good. Keep 1940 up there. Send in your contribution soon.

JOE ROCHE is with Jordan Marsh Co., in the Men's Sportswear Department. He recently returned from a trip to Ireland.

'41 CHARLES J. MURPHY

Hon. John F. Beatty, '41, is the Mayor of Bal Harbour, Florida. He is president of Coogan-Beatty Inc., of Miami, operative builders, presently building 500 retirement homes in Ormand Beach, Florida, and president of the South Florida Home-builders Ass'n.

TOM MURPHY has been appointed sales manager by Washington Wholesalers.

FATHER ED COWHIG, Captain, Paratrooper, Chaplain Corps, presented a paratrooper emblem recently to Ambassador Claire Booth Luce in Rome.

The Ware Dairy, with LARRY CONNORS and brother John as owners and operators recently celebrated its 25th anniversary.

LT. COL. DANIEL REGAN is now stationed at Camp Lejeune.

MAJOR SAM GALZERANO, regular U. S. Air Force, attached to the base at El Paso, Texas visited Boston with his wife and family of three sons and a daughter a short time ago. Paying a visit to the Heights, Sam was amazed at the growth of Alma Mater. He hopes that son "Riccy" will be fighting for fullback position on the 1974 team.

DOCTOR and MRS. ARTHUR PARKER announce the arrival of Louise Elizabeth on September 16.

BILL ROONEY has received his Doctor of Social Work degree from Western Reserve University.

Congratulations to FATHER PAUL HARRINGTON and his committee members for the tremendous job they did on the Family Communion Breakfast. FATHER BOB DRINAN's sermon was excellent and CONNIE JAMESON did a very good job as toastmaster. JIM DOONAN, DR. DAVE CAVAN, CLEM HASENFUS and their wives deserve an orchid for their efforts in coming such a distance.

This first event of our 15th Anniversary celebration was a real success. Let's all get behind the coming events. Join your classmates at the Cross game—contact LEO STRUMSKI or ERNIE HANDY. JOHN McDONALD and his committee, at their own expense, have reserved a suite at the Somerset for classmates wishing to visit before and/or after the game.

A general class committee meeting will be held on Monday, January 28th, 8 P.M., Alumni Hall, and the class dance is scheduled for Friday, February 22. All committees—Family Communion, B. C.-Holy Cross game, February 22nd Dance are working hard so that we will all have a memorable anniversary year—why not give them a helping hand?

FATHER ROBERT DRINAN, S.J., Dean of the Law School, has been appointed a Corresponding Editor of America.

JOHN BRENNAN is Budget Director of the Electronics Corporation of America; VINCENT BANE has been appointed Manager of Employee and Plant Community Relations for G. E.'s Appliance Motor Department at DeKalb, Illinois.

DAVE BIRTWELL from Tenafly, N. J., and the proud father of 5 children has recently been promoted to Administrative Assistant, T. E. Sales Management at World Headquarters.

REV. RICHARD COSTELLO, S.J., sends an informative note from the Jesuit Educational Association where he is assistant to the president. He reports that FATHER FRANK NICHOLSON is now studying at Harvard Law School.

GERRY JOYCE announces the birth of his 5th child in September, a girl, Elizabeth.

ARTHUR BLAISDELL, living in Wakefield, has four children, and is Chief Engineer at Diamond Micro Wave Corp.

JOHN DRISCOLL and ARTHUR DRINKWATER are together in the same law office at 40 Court St., Boston.

Congratulations to CHARLIE SULLIVAN on his recent marriage to Patricia Ann Burke of Swampscott.

In C.Y.O. activities FR. DAN MORAN and FR. BOB McNEIL have been appointed as deanery directors. Fr. Dan is at St. Mary's Melrose and will head the Lynn deanery and Fr. Bob is at St. Lawrence's, Brookline, and will guide the Newton deanery programs.

The Knights of Columbus campaign to aid Archbishop Cushing's work for exceptional children is getting a helping hand from ANTHONY VETTRAINO who is grand knight of the Ausonia Council.

The Brink's case is history. JOE DINNEEN covered the daily doings for the Globe and ED MYERS was at the WEEI mike covering the events. BOB DeGIACOMO was counsel for one of the defendants.

Busy in the political parade, JACK MAHONEY conducted a strong campaign for the House of Representatives in West Roxbury. Also served as toastmaster for Paul Hines '45 farewell party to a New York public relations post.

You can be sure your gift to the Alumni Fund is one of the most useful you can make. So, be sure to mail it in today before you forget about it.

Drop us a note about your own activities so we can use more items next issue. Thanks.

BILL COOK is a pilot with Northeast Airlines.

The Foxboro, Mass., "Reporter" headlines an article in its edition of September 27 "...In Memory of A Fine Man" ... on the occasion of the Town of Mansfield honoring the memory of DON CURRIVAN—naming the new high school gymnasium for him. Rev. Maurice V. Dullea, S.J., '17 Moderator of Athletics, represented the College at the affair.

The condolences of the class are extended to BOB REHLING on the death of his father.

DR. JOHN MURPHY was on the committee for the White Mass sponsored by the Guild of St. Luke at St. Ignatius Church on October 20.

Concerning CBA — Congratulations to JOHN CONNOLLY on his handling of the toastmaster position at the Annual CBA Dinner held on October 27. Also assisting on the committee were AL TIERNEY, CONNIE SULLIVAN, DAVE CAREY and BILL McMORROW. Father McManus, S.J., does a wonderful job each year. Eventually everyone has a share in this committee work.

DAVE and Eve CAREY congratulated on their third child, a girl this month. CONNIE SULLIVAN is at Travelers Insurance Co.'s Boston branch office as Assistant Office Manager. He has been with this Company for the past eight years. BILL McMORROW and AL TIERNEY are in their own respective businesses. DAVE CAREY who is a CPA is with French Shriner & Urner Shoe Mfgs. in Boston. JOHN CONNOLLY has been with Telechron for the past seven years. Would like to ask all those that have not yet made their annual contribution to the Alumni Fund to do so. Our class would like to be a representative one and also your prompt action would ease the work of the class officers who are not only loyal to this cause personally but who also give much of their time. Encourage classmates also to keep us posted as to locations and work or other activities. You can do this by writing your correspondent or by sending note to Alumni Office. (With your Alumni Fund you no what.)

The spring of this year found the class undergoing a plan of reorganization. By-Laws were drawn up to govern the class in the future years and to establish the election of new class officers and a Board of Directors in the fall of every other year. These officers are to serve for a maximum of two consecutive terms.

On September 24, a dinner and election of officers and directors was held at Alumni Hall. Sixty-four members of the class were present, and the following were elected to office: President: WILLIAM H. HARNEY; Vice President: JOHN EMMONS; Treasurer: ALBERT J. CASS; Secretary: WALTER J. McGAULEY.

The twenty members of the Board of Directors, elected by unanimous consent, were also placed in office.

The evening was a great success, and everyone enjoyed the opportunity to renew old acquaintances.

The class is planning to have a dance on December 14 at Alumni Hall. The Committee has planned a wonderful evening, and it is hoped that you will all be there. Don't forget to reserve that night now—December 14.

Congratulations to the CHARLES CARROLLS on their new arrival. Charlie is living in Portland, Maine. Another classmate living in Portland is MICHAEL GOULDING.

PRESIDENT JOHN BUCKLEY has made plans for our Annual Reunion and Dance to be held on Thanksgiving Eve, November 21 at Alumni Hall from 8 to 12. Be sure to be on hand for a wonderful evening—details in the mail.

First off—thanks to the kind parents, wives, and classmates whose notes to this writer makes the "News" possible. If you're traveling throughout the country and see that one of our fellows happens to be where you are—look him up. There are none as good as "our own".

Highlighting recent news is the engagement of Regina McGee, sister to our lawyer-columnist from the CBA. A diligent worker for B.C. (pres. of the Jr. Philomatheia), she is marrying TOM McELROY of our class. Tom's twin brother, another classmate, FR. JOHN McELROY will perform the ceremony in April.

LT. PAUL KENDRICK, USMC is engaged to Mary Lou Turner of Glendale, California, and ATTY-LT. JOHN BERRIGAN, USMC is engaged to Colleen Davis of Boston and Bar Harbor.

DAN DUGGAN has married Margaret Mallonee of Candler, N.C. Dan is in the USAF, stationed at Donaldson Field, Greenville, S.C. DAVE BROWN has married Mary Ryan of Stoneham and is running a real estate-insurance business in that town. DICK MAYO has announced his engagement to Mary Irwin of St. Petersburg, Fla. and intends to live in San Francisco.

Haven't heard the results of KUSON HADDAD's candidacy for Ninth Middlesex Representative as yet. At present he's the Sgt. Friday of the Marlboro P.D.

Things medical: Walking thru the Surgical suite of the Worcester City Hospital, I stumbled and before straightening up almost lost my appendix to BUD POWELL—a surgical intern. Over coffee the news came out. RENALD COTE, M.D. is interning in Salem; KIRWIN MacMILLAN, M.D. is in the army doing his internship on the West Coast; TOM ZIPOLI, M.D. down at St. Luke's in New Bedford; BILL GALLAGHER, M.D. at St. Elizabeth's; LARRY BEN-NETT, M.D. at Akron General, Ohio, and JOHN SAYERS, M.D. at Georgetown Medical Center. DICK FALLON took his M.D. at Harvard and has received a 5-year appointment in surgery at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis. He has also been appointed assistant professor of surgery at Washington Medical School, St. Louis.

DICK FLEMING has his M.D. from Tufts, also JIM GALVIN, M.D., and RALPH MALAGODI, Doctor of Dental Medicine.

Misc.: GERRY HOLLAND, Ph.D. from M.I.T., is in Bethesda at the National Institute of Health doing research; JOHN GRADY is teaching in Ipswich and ATTY. BOB CALLAHAN (what a fullback!) has Ft. Dix agog with his military proficiency in soldiery.

Classmates who would like to write FRANK WHALEN, S.J., now in Toronto, please drop me a note for his address.

Your CBA correspondent has taken the somewhat dubious step of entering the military establishment—I am still located in Washington, D.C. and am serving as a legal advisor to the Surgeon General of the Army.

Wedding bells continue to ring and during the summer AL CASASSA married Clarice Murphy of Winchester. Al is a member of the class of '57 at B.U. Law School. In Brockton JOHN MALONEY and Rose Dantona exchanged vows. John is teaching at Putnam High School, Conn.; ED MATTA married Shirley R. Doten and they are living in Brockton. Ed is employed in the office of the supervisor of naval ordnance and inspection in Quincy. JIM NICHOLS and Mary Fanning were married in July. Jim is a sales representative for the Container Corporation of America. BILL SMITH's bride is the former Mary O'Brien of Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Marie M. Conway and FRANK O'BRIEN were married in Roslindale on September 1. BILL HEAVEY is engaged to Luicita Guzman of Long Island, N.Y.

CHARLIE BARRETT was recently named an assistant U. S. attorney.

Politics have attracted some of our brethren: DAVE WHALEN was elected to the Hopkinton Board of Selectmen; last time we heard FRANK MARR was progressing steadily towards re-election; BOB QUINN is a new representative in the Massachusetts House.

If you need sporting equipment at any time drop in to see DAN DAVIS—he is now a salesman for J. W. Brine Co., 92 Summer St., Boston.

The Class joins in all good wishes to REV. CHRISTIAN MALONE, O.F.M. (Bernie) who was ordained a Franciscan at the Franciscan Monastery in Washington, D.C. on September 8. He is stationed at Holy Name College, Washington, D.C. for further studies.

Congratulations to DICK RICHARDS who has a master's in law from N.Y.U., '56, and to BILL SCHOLZ, MBA, Harvard, '56.

PAUL NOLAN has successfully completed a training course for fire protection engineers conducted by Factory Mutuals Engineering Division. The course qualifies for inspection and counselling at plants insured by Factory Mutual.

LARRY VACHON has joined the Bettis Plant, atomic power research laboratory which Westinghouse operates for the Atomic Energy Commission in Pittsburgh, Pa. Larry and his family are living in Pittsburgh at 420 Macassar Drive.

General Tire & Rubber Co. has promoted TONY GARGANO to office manager of the Chicago Division. The release from General Tire also announces

From the mail and clippings recently received we have some news of interest to the '53ers. First off, received a letter from the west coast from BOB McISAAC. Can't think of the address but will when I finish this. Second news from ARTHUR VAUTRAIN who is attached to the Seventh Fleet on the West Coast. He is aboard the U.S.S. Roanoke. News from Boston way, DICK MAGILL married Shirley Phillips last August. SHERM SALTMARSH and Marcia Springer of Bedford are planning a fall wedding this year. JACK MAZZONE from Milford way has "popped the question" to Rosemary Palma. Incidentally Jack reported aboard the U.S.S. Yellow Stone on August 27th. From Waterville, Maine I have heard that Kathy Doyle and GEORGE MURPHY were married last July. More wedding news and here is one I enjoyed reading about, my good friend MARTIN KANE married a young lass by the name of Marian Sullivan. This took place last July. Out in Norwood way (speaking of Norwood have not heard from good friend STAPLETON . . . has his clan increased?). Marian Anne Petrulis and TOM O'HEIR have announced their engagement. A spring wedding is planned. LEO CASEY and Anne Hurley were married in July in Chelsea. Leo is attending B.C. Grad School. LEO GRACE, our golfer, married Jean O'Brien in August. Leo is now in the banking business. TONY SOARES, recently appointed to Eastern Ill. State College has returned there with his bride, the former Louise Govoni. Both are from Plymouth, Mass. and were married in August. HENRY O'BRIEN and Mary Winkel are now Mr. and Mrs. as of last July.

JOE O'BRIEN married Anne Hall, School of Nursing, '56, on October 6; ANTHONY CARLISI and Anne Spuria were wed on September 1; JOHN DORAN, lieutenant, USAF, was married early in October to Darlene Hellie at the USAF Air Force Academy Chapel in Denver, Colorado, and the announcement has been made of ROD O'NEIL'S marriage to Barbara Ann Bowen. The wedding took place on July 20th at Saint Francis Xavier Catholic Church, Brunswick, Georgia. Rod is a lieutenant, j.g., USNR. HAROLD HANNAWAY is a lieutenant with "B" Battery of the 89th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion, U.S. Army, APO 112, N. Y.

Congratulations to GEORGE LAMB who has been awarded the Owens-Corning Fiberglass Fellowship in Acoustics at M.I.T. for the year 1956-57. Under the Fellowship, George plans to complete his thesis for a doctor's degree in physics.

NEIL O'KEEFE has entered the Society of Jesus and is presently at the Novitiate of St. Andrew on the Hudson, New York. DENNIS CRONIN received an LL.B. from Harvard this summer. The ARTHUR WHOLLEY JR.S. have announced the birth of Arthur, III on July 30th. They are now living in Toledo, Ohio at 3151 Middlesex Avenue.

JACK McKINNON has been appointed to the Junior High School faculty at Woonsocket R. I. He will assist JACK TOPPA, our ex-grid captain there as football coach. Betty Regan and JOE McISAAC were married in Quincy last July. Joe is now studying for his Masters at the Heights. Kathy McKiernan and JACK SULLIVAN exchanged marriage vows last June. Kathy Welsh and Ensgr. ED POWERS planned a November wedding. Ann Reardon and TOM DESMOND are planning nuptials in the near future. From the Brockton Times I learned that Rose Danto and JACK MALONEY were married in August.

Other news . . . LEO HANLEY has been appointed to the Millis School. BOB McISAACS address is c/o the M. E. Thompson Agency, 612 So. Shatto Pl., Los Angeles 5, Calif.

Received a phone call from PAUL HAFEEY today. He informs us that LARRY MALONEY is out of the service and is going to school for his Masters. Paul is stationed near Philadelphia.

'54 JOHN J. CURTIN, JR.
24 Laurel Lane, Dedham

This is the year of the great transition. Members of the class of '54 everywhere beginning new phases in their lives. Many who entered the service immediately upon graduation have completed their tour of duty and have returned to civilian life. Many more, deferred for graduate studies have completed their academic work and are preparing to enter the service. With the class in such a state of flux, your class correspondent would appreciate hearing from all who have recently changed their status from soldier to civilian, or vice versa.

An even dozen of former servicemen have decided to go back to the books at Boston College Law School. These include BERT GOOD, JIM KELLEY, JOHN SULLIVAN, JERRY McCUSKER, FRANK LYNCH, DICK CURLEY, ED HARRINGTON, RAYMOND IVASKA, JOHN RUGGERIO, BILL KENDRICK, MARIO SIMEOLA, and BILLY MCCARTHY. All of these may be contacted Monday through Friday at the Boston College Law Library from 1:00 P. M. to 11:00 P. M., with an hour out for supper, of course.

But foreign fields have lured one of our classmates. BOB PIRO has decided to remain in Texas with his wife, the former Barbara MacDonald and attend the University of Texas Law School. His address is 3007 C Red River, Austin, Texas.

Others far from the Heights include ED BUCKLEY who is living at 8239 14th Ave., Hyattsville, Maryland with his wife and three children, Lois, Marie, and the latest, Edward Paul, while working at the Naval Ordinance Lab in Washington. Ed appears to be the senior member of our Proud Papas Club.

A new member of the club is BOB GATELY who is working as a criminal scientist for the Criminal Bureau of Investigation in Dade County, Florida. Little Shawne Marie, Bob, and his wife Eileen should have moved into their new home in North Miami Beach when this is published.

TONY DAUKAS of basketball fame is another newcomer to the ranks of the Proud Papas. He is taking his wife Lynn,

B. C. Nursing '55, and his son Vince to California and a new job. This edition's last recruit for the club is RAY MACPHERSON, whose wife, June, presented him with a daughter, Susan Margaret.

Our classmates also seem to be making headway in the academic world. BOB HASENFUS has recently been appointed to the social science department Anson Academy, Waterville, Maine. PAT WALSH has made the full circle and is an instructor in chemistry at Fairfield Prep., Bridgeport, Connecticut, a Jesuit institution. BOB B. MURPHY is a member of the Burlington, Massachusetts Junior and Senior faculty. The teacher-coach field welcomes a new molder of men. JACK CANIFF, former hockey ace, is the new head hockey coach at Gloucester High School. He also teaches the social sciences and mathematics.

The ED DONLANS had their first child, Paul, on June 3. Ed is teaching at Lawrence High School, Falmouth, living at 137 King Street. He worked as assistant to the Town Engineer during the summer.

GEORGE HICKEY was separated from the Army last June, and entered the Seminary in September. He is at St. Clement's hall, 197 Foster St., Brighton.

TOM COLLINS, formerly of Dorchester, currently calling 8 Rambler Road, Jamaica Plain his home, has just returned from Deutschland having severed his relations with the Army Signal Corps; JOHN CLOGAN is defending his country at Fort Banks, Winthrop in the Personnel section; PAUL DELEHANTY, now calling 105 W. Milton St., Dedham, a place to hang his hat is working for Martin Cerel Realty, Inc.

JOHN REYNOLDS received his M.Ed. from the college in June. He is working on the City of Boston Retirement Board; PAUL SALLY, teaching at B. C. High has also received an M.Ed.

The one department that never seems to decrease is our newly married. Many more of the class of '54 have joined their classmates in happy wedlock. BILL DEXTRAZE wed the former Dona Ann Regan of Houston, Texas in that city. BILL SULLIVAN has gained a helpmate, the former Susan White to assist him through the last two years of Harvard Medical School. Two Newport, Rhode Island boys, GERRY POWER and LOU MALOOF stepped to the altar, Lou with the former Carole Buttner and Gerry with the former Mary Tierney. FRANK WARD married Phoebe Driscoll, and Rita Boland became the bride of JIM TODD.

JOE FANDEL married the former Mary Louise Walsh. Joe is currently employed by United Airlines. AL FERRI and Maryrose Algeri were wed in Waltham. BOB RUFUS KING took Pat Thalheimer for his bride at St. Joseph's Church in Medford. Eleanor Carr and GEORGE McCARRON were married by, of all people, a Jesuit from Holy Cross, Father Joseph Glavin. Catherine Dowd became JOSEPH F. WARD'S bride. The former Barbara Welch is now Mrs. JOHN CAULEY. The final two to enter the select circle were Mary Whalen and BOB BRIGHAM.

The class of 1954 extends its sincere condolences to GIL ROCHA on the loss of his mother, Mrs. Helen Rocha.

STEVE DOOLING and Joan Forrest were wed. They will be living in Meriden, Conn. Steve is with Pratt-Whitney. ENRICO CATALANOTTI and his bride, the former Lena Marie Conti, were married in August. WALTER SULLIVAN and Margaret Donavan have also taken the vows. Walter is serving with the U.S. Army and is stationed at Ft. Bliss, Texas. CHARLIE BAKER and Joan Malloy celebrated a holiday wedding, Labor Day. Assisting as ushers during the ceremony were PAUL BEDDIA and LEO MAGUIRE. Charlie is at the University of Illinois working towards his Ph.D.; Paul is with Lincoln Labs in Cleveland, Ohio; and Leo is attending Harvard Law School. HARRY CARROLL was married on July 14 to Patricia Ann Supple of Cambridge.

DAVE ROWLEY and JIM HALL along with our married buddy, Steve, are with Pratt-Whitney in Connecticut.

DAVE QUINN has extended his fellowship at B.C. for his masters. I believe it is in Economics.

Congratulations to JERRY HENNESSY and his wife on the arrival of their baby girl.

BOB MacINTIRE is in New York attending the Flower Medical School.

JIMMIE ZOELLER wrote to me not too long ago. He is in the service stationed at Travis A.F.B., California with a "Skysweeper Battalion". His folks have moved to St. Louis, Mo. and Jim says he'll be home on a 30-day leave in November, he has invited any one that may be out that way to drop in.

WALTER LETHAN is at the Naval Officer Candidate School in Newport, R. I.

JIM MARTIN, Ensign USNR, by now will have graduated from Supply School in Athens, Georgia.

JIM FITZGERALD has taken his first solo flight at the Whiting Field Naval Auxiliary Air Station, Milton, Fla. Before leaving he will receive more advanced training in precision air work.

FRANNIE "I hate it" CICCARELLI has finished his basic training at Ft. Dix. He is currently stationed outside of Washington, D.C. He is a clerk typist.

RALPH VIGEANT, serving with the U.S. Army, has undergone an operation. Ralph is stationed in Germany. His family have taken a trip there on a visit to him and he and his folks will be taking a "Cook's tour" through Italy and Germany while he is on leave.

RONNIE SILETTO is an Ensign aboard the U.S.S. Rogers. He is assigned to the Gunnery section. He is presently stationed in San Diego, Calif. and is expected to leave for the Far East soon.

FRANK LANNON is engaged to Norma Winters and will be married in October. Frank is serving with the U.S. Army as a 2nd Lt. and is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. Also engaged and in the Army is BILL FLANAGAN. Bill was engaged in July to Judith Walsh. I guess July was the month. Engaged at that time too was JOHN McDONNELL to Mary Donoghue. Jack is now stationed in Japan. He is a 2nd Lt. in the USMCR.

Last, but not least, is yours truly (V.M.N.) who is steadily overcoming his attack from polio. He is now employed by the Raytheon Mfg. Co. in Newton as an Industrial Engineer. He too has taken the role of the engaged. The girl, Jane Monahan; the date, July 4th.

NOTE: Please send word of your whereabouts and doings to your correspondents. It's a sure means of keeping this column alive.

The Fall! Last year at this time we were all beginning our first term of the Senior year. This was to be the last year that we would be together as a class. But as we look over these letters, we have discovered that, though the class is in all parts of the world, it is really together in spirit. Let's keep it up and be an active class as well as an active alumni.

Congratulations are in order to JIM MELLONI and his wife on the June birth of their son, Jim, Jr. Jim is working for G. E. in Framingham. Also to MR. and Mrs. BOB FONTANA and BOB COCHRANE who are expecting bundles of joy in the spring.

We would like to send best wishes to the newlyweds of our class such as MR. and Mrs. PAUL CAREY, BOB EGO, FRANK COFSKY, DAN LINEHAN, PAUL DUVAL, BILL DOLAN, JOE CAREY, BILL DUNPHY and ED LESLIE. By the way Ed is at Cornell University this fall.

One of the erstwhile editors of the Sub-Turri, JOHN HARNEY has entered the Jesuits and is studying at Bellarmine College, Plattsburg, N. Y. PHIL DAWSON is teaching and coaching in California with TOM SULLIVAN and JOHN CASWELL.

Among those interested in the legal profession are PETE HIGGINS, BILL MURPHY, JOE CASEY, VIN ST. PIERRE and JOHN McINERNEY. The teachers of the Class of '56 are JOE FIDELIS, RICHIE SCOPA and WALT FLAHERTY. Another member of the School of Ed. BILL KENNEDY is working for an insurance company in Boston and is planning a wedding to Helen King in April. BILL GANNON is teaching in Billerica and PAUL FOUCRE and JERRY SPILLANE are at the Heights on fellowships, along with PETER PAGLARI and BOB DeIULIO.

Those working for Uncle Sam are ART SMITH, EDDIE DUNFORD, DON McCULLOUGH, GEORGE SPILLANE and HERB FINI.

DAN BUCKLEY is serving the government as an electronics engineer in the National Security Agency.

FRANK FUREY is a teacher-coach at Chaminade High School, Mineola, N. Y.

Teaching in Stoughton, WALTER LANG, JAMES BRYANT and PETER AKIN. HAL CROSBY is on Martha's Vineyard.

JOE TWOMEY has been commissioned in the U. S. Navy.

FORDIE PITTS is still golfing up a storm on the South Shore.

GERRY FORGUES and NORBIE MICHAUD are attending B.C. Graduate School. — "Excellent representation from Maine".

PAUL SHEEHAN is with the Mutual of Wausau and DICK LUCIANO is on the road for G. K. Chesterton.

JIM MALONEY is on the Sears & Roebuck training program in New Hampshire.

TOM BRESNAHAN has returned from his European tour in style — with a beard.

BOB DONOVAN is in full swing on the G. E. training program.

Congratulations are in order on the recent marriages of RICHARD A. NUTILE and Miss Rosalie Kravish; WILLARD A. JACKSON and Miss Anne M. Shuley; GEORGE E. BUCKLEY and Miss Eileen M. Donahue; MICHAEL A. CICCARELLI and Miss Ann L. Uhrig; RICHARD E. PEARCE and Judith A. Whittles. Also to EDWARD F. SHEEHAN and Miss Mary V. Lynch.

We would appreciate some prayers and letters for JOE FIORE, who is at Boston Sanatorium in Mattapan recuperating from an attack of tuberculosis.

That seems to be the final note for this issue. Remember to drop a line and tell us what you are doing and keep the class united.

Law School

JOSEPH F. McCARTHY,
LL. B., '36
11 Hardwick St., Brighton

About one hundred and fifty members of the Alumni Association of the Law School attended a supper meeting on October 9 at the School. The occasion provided an excellent opportunity for the Alumni to meet the new Dean of the Law School, Father Robert F. Drinan, S.J., and to hear Chief Justice Paul C. Reardon of the Superior Court of Massachusetts speak on "Recent Developments in Judicial Administration."

The newly elected officers of the Alumni Association were announced as follows: President, FERNAND A. BOUTREAU, '38; Vice-President, L. SHELDON DALY, '39; Treasurer, JOSEPH L. BREEN, '35; Secretary, CHARLES T. BIRMINGHAM, '43; Council Members: LEO A. REED, '43, FRANCIS X. AHERN, '43, JOHN MACKIN, '37, GEORGE F. McGRATH, '53, JAMES P. LYNCH, '49, JOSEPH J. MULHERN, JR., '49. The retiring president, VINCENT J. COSGROVE, '39 is ex-officio a member of the Alumni Council.

It was nice to see at this meeting BILL BENNETT, '35 who came in from his office at 60 Wall Street, New York; the Sorenson brothers from Worcester, who hardly ever miss a meeting; and J. ALBERT LYNCH, '49, KENNETH McLAUGHLIN, '50 and JAMES ENRIGHT, '56 from Nashua, N. H.

The 15th Annual Red Mass was held on Saturday, September 29 at St. Ignatius Church. Mass was celebrated by the president of the College, Very Rev. Joseph R. N. Maxwell, S.J., assisted by the Dean of the Law School, Rev. Robert F. Drinan, S.J., and the Student Counsellor, Rev. John A. Tobin, S.J. The speaker was the noted authority on Church-State relations, Rev. John Courtney Murray, S.J.

The Law School has received a legacy of $15,000 from the estate of the late Margaret Keefe. The income from the gift is to be used for a full-tuition scholarship for an outstanding student who needs financial aid. Margaret Keefe is the aunt of CHARLES A. KEEFE, '56.

JOHN J. GRIGALUS, '34, was recently appointed by Mayor Hynes to the Board of Appeals of the City of Boston.

GEORGE A. BEAUDET, '36, is kept quite busy in his dual role as Clerk and Acting Judge in the District Court, Woonsocket, R. I.

HAROLD W. PORTER, '38, was recently appointed Assistant City Solicitor for the City of Fitchburg, Mass.

WILLIAM J. FARRELL, '44, was recently appointed Executive Director of the Lowell Development and Industrial Commission.

JOSEPH F. DEEGAN, JR., '50, who for the past six years has been associated with the firm of Seaman and Seaman, Perth Amboy, N. J., has recently opened his own office at 175 Smith St., Perth Amboy, N. J.

ROGER F. SULLIVAN, '52, associated with the firm of Horvitz and Horvitz in Fall River, Mass., has been selected as Chairman of the Business and Industrial Committee of the Fall River Unit, American Cancer Society.

AUGUSTINE J. McDONOUGH, '53, was recently made a general partner in the Manchester, N. H. firm of Divine and Millimet.

DAVID W. WALSH, '53, is now with the Legal Department of the New Haven Railroad.

FRANK INFELISE, '53, recently separated from the U. S. Army announces the opening of his law office at 7 Central Square, Lynn, Mass.

W. BRADLEY RYAN, '53, is associated in practice with his father at 209 Washington St., Boston.

FRANCIS E. DOOLEY, '55, has become associated with the office of Parker, Coulter, Daley & White, Boston.

TIMOTHY M. THORNTON, '55, was recently graduated and commissioned an Ensign in the U. S. Navy Reserve at ceremonies held at the Navy's Officer Candidate School, Newport, R. I.

ROBERT J. SHERER, '56, winner of the class of 1952 Honor Award for the outstanding student in the graduating class, is Law Clerk for Mr. Justice Cushman of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts.

JOHN D. DWYER III, '56, was recently appointed Law Clerk to Mr. Justice Ronan of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts.

The first meeting of the year on September 26 brought out a good crowd of more than 50 loyal Alumni who enjoyed meeting with Bill Flynn, Alumni Secretary, and viewing the new, beautiful and informative film "The Towers". JACKIE FOLEY, '56, who assisted in the production of the film, ran it off at Alumni Hall.

JOE WALSH, '39, of Auburndale has taken to the hustings as candidate for the State Legislature from Newton. Joe has been very active in fraternal, civic, and social affairs of his community for many years.

Western Electric Co. has recognized the talents of JOHN MORIN, '56, of Haverhill. John has been promoted to section chief at the Merrimack Valley Works.

Dedham High has hit the jackpot with '56 cum laude GIRARD HOTTELMAN taking his place on the English faculty there; JOHN MERULLO, '54, is now a social worker for the State Parole Board having previously filled the same function for the Department of Correction at Mass. Reformatory.

Congratulations to GERRY McDONALD, '47, and Mrs. McDonald on the arrival of number one, Brian. After teaching at Santa Clara U. for the past 9 years, Gerry is now on the faculty of the U. of Arizona in the Ed Department.

JOHN A. DEWIRE, '54, has been elected commander of Yankee Division Post No. 290, American Legion. He is teaching in the Boston schools. Your former fellow classmates are interested in what and how you are doing. Let them know through this column. Send the news to your correspondent to the above address.

Don't miss the new 30-minute color movie of life at B. C.

The Towers on the Heights

Here are 30 minutes of undisguised nostalgia, guaranteed to sweep you back over the intervening years, back to the Heights, books in hand, with quizzes to be faced and teams to be cheered and soirées to be enjoyed and the whole world ahead of you and really not a care in all of it.

It's the first documentary film to be produced about B. C. And your first comment after seeing it — and no doubt about it, enjoying it—will be, too, "It's wonderful."

It's an all-B. C. production, produced and directed by Francis E. Murphy, Director of Audio-Visual Services. English Prof. John Sullivan wrote the script; Bernie Senick, a junior in Education, gives it a handsome narration. Barbara Bennett, Instructor in Fine Arts, and Women's Organization Musical Director, plotted the musical background, which is sung by the Glee Club under C. Alex Peloquin. John Foley, of Visual Aids, supplied the crisp editing of the sound track.

You'll be homesick for half-an-hour: but the pangs are pleasant. Watching John Norton '22 and Harry Doyle and Mal McLeod '28 — not fearsome profs. any more, but old friends now — its Oh so easy to remember the English and Government and Latin classes with joy. Watching the Chem and Physics labs boiling away again reminded me, anyhow, to wonder how did I ever pass those courses?

Maybe the neatest sequence is a gag scene set up on the football field. 5'8", 150-lb. Fr. James W. Ring, S.J., Physics prof. explains to Mike and his mammoth myrmidons how a punt is merely a matter of leverage. They call him on it, make him demonstrate. So he kicks a 190-yarder over the goal-posts out of Alumni Field. And the closeup on his wink proves the good jebbie vastly enjoyed hamming it up in a good cause.

It's all B. C. Don't miss it.

"Towers on the Heights" can be purchased for $130.00 a print. 4 copies are available for club showings, free of charge, although the Audio-Visual people plead that you use an experienced projectionist. To borrow a print, get in touch with Francis E. Murphy, Director of Audio-Visual Center, Boston College, Chestnut Hill 67, Mass.

Meet New England Life's

"Rookie-of-the-Year"

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY '53

A champion athlete as well as a champion salesman, Bud Wallen is a member of this year's World Champion Indoor and Outdoor Water Polo Team.

Each year, New England Life's Leaders Association elects its most outstanding newcomer "Rookie-of-the-Year". Last year's winner, William L. "Bud" Wallen, sold over a million dollars worth of life insurance. Before joining New England Life, Bud worked for a nationally known manufacturer, where he set a sales record that still stands.

Characteristically, men come to New England Life to find greater opportunity and satisfaction. Through efficient training and supervision, and generous financial backing, they soon develop the professional status to handle important estate planning assignments.

To find out more about a career with New England Life, write Vice President L. M. Huppeler, 501 Boylston Street, Boston 17, Massachusetts.

As symbols of his award, Bud Wallen wears a baseball cap and holds a bat — in addition to the trophy — after being named "Rookie-of-the-Year" during the annual meeting of New England Life's Leaders Association at Sun Valley, Idaho.
